St. Joe Woman Giving Kin Rare Packard As Present

By DICK DERRICK
Staff Writer

The 1936 Packard coupe birthday gift Mrs. Carrie Dobberthien received 39 years ago — now a priceless only-one-of-its-kind — will become a birthday present again.

Mrs. Dobberthien of 1112 Market Street, St. Joseph, told her two great nephews, James and Duane Johnson of Cleveland, that the spotless, shiny, smooth-running coupe is theirs as her birthday present to them.

The two men, former Twin City residents, were born on the same day, Sept. 12 — two years apart. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson. Their father operated a Citgo station in Benton Harbor for many years.

It was the drawing power of the rare old Packard that boosted sales of gasoline and got the nephews interested in the vehicle.

The elder Johnson years ago would have Mrs. Dobberthien park her car in front of his service station as an attraction. Johnson kept track of the traffic and figured the coupe drew 600 gallons of business.

The Johnson boys, James, who is a policeman in Cleveland, and Duane, who operates a service station, figure the antique car will be an attraction just as it was in Benton Harbor years ago.

The two also plan to exhibit the car at antique shows. The car was originally purchased as a birthday present for Mrs. Dobberthien by her late husband, Albert. Price was $2,700. The family had a DeSoto. The dealer took the old car for a ride but could hardly make it go. Mrs. Dobberthien put that DeSoto through its paces so convincingly the dealer, Ray Helm, gave her $700 for it.

Mr. Dobberthien originally worked for the Truscott Boat Co. here. When that plant closed the Dobberthiens went to Sacramento, Calif., and worked for the Southern Pacific railroad. It was hot and humid in Sacramento, however, and the two quickly returned to Michigan. Mr. Dobberthien worked for a time at Palmer Tire and Rubber Co. and then started with St. Joseph Machines in 1924. He worked there for 35 years, until he was 71 years old.

Mrs. Dobberthien, 85, has given up driving. When she put her car away it had 65,187.5 miles on it. She reported the auto gets 22 miles to the gallon and will hit 120 miles per hour. It was last licensed in 1973.

Questioned on the speed claim, Mrs. Dobberthien said she knows the car will do 120 because she drove it that fast. She only did it once — on a trip from South Bend, Ind., to Indianapolis.

She has been to see the 500 mile race at Indianapolis. She never got a ticket with the car, but she said a policeman curbed her one time because he wanted to buy the Packard.

It is difficult to determine the cash value of the car. Mrs. Dobberthien said Packard built only 40 of that specific model. It was built too well for the price charged.

When Studebaker bought out Packard, company officials again tried to buy it. They said the car was priceless. One antique dealer told Mrs. Dobberthien hers was the only car left of the 40 manufactured. She had innumerable offers to buy the vehicle.

Mrs. Dobberthien says she can't get insurance on it — not even insurance to protect it from fire and theft. Regarding that, however, Mrs. Dobberthien said St. Joseph Police Det. William Mihalik assured her no one could drive her car out of town except her.

STILL SHINY: Reflections on fenders show how well 1936 Packard has been maintained by Mrs. Carrie Dobberthien of 1112 Market Street, St. Joseph. Car was a birthday gift 39 years ago. Mrs. Dobberthien plans to give the car as a birthday present to two grand-nephews.

Suspects Captured After Two Tires Blow

By DENNIS COGSWELL

PAW PAW — A high-speed police chase on I-94 near here after an armed robbery in Lawrence yesterday ended when the car pursued by police blew two tires in an attempted U-turn on the interstate.

Police said occupants of the car, a Joliet, Ill., man and his wife, surrendered without resistance to Paw Paw and Lawton police who had joined Van Buren sheriff's deputies and state police in the chase.

Charged with the $85 armed robbery of the Sinclair gas station in Lawrence were David A. Probst, 21, and his wife Paula, 16, police said.

David Probst was also arrested on a charge of auto theft. Police said the car which Probst was driving was reported as stolen from Joliet.

According to police, a vehicle matching the description of the car involved in the robbery of the station in Lawrence was spotted headed eastbound on I-94 near the Paw Paw exit about 2 p.m. Officers said they pursued the vehicle, with a Lawton police car joining in the chase, which reached a speeds of up to 100 m.p.h.

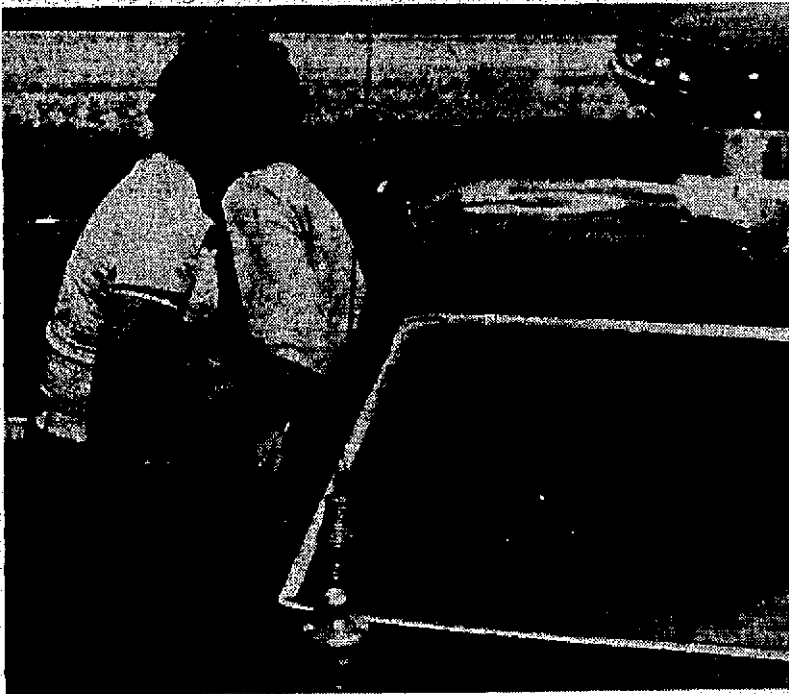

As the two cruisers pulled near the car, police said it swerved in an attempt to make a U-turn, blowing the two front tires and coming to rest in the median.

A .22-caliber starting pistol, a pellet gun, and $85 were confiscated, deputies said.

Deputies gave the following account of the robbery:

A man and a woman drove into the Sinclair service station in Lawrence about 1:45 p.m. and asked the attendant, Gilbert Arrans, 23, route 2, Lawrence, to gas up the car.

When Arrans went inside the station office, the man pulled a gun. Arrans said he grabbed the man while he was wrestling with him, Roy Richardson, 66, 129 West St. Joseph, Lawrence, West St. Joseph, Lawrence, entered the station.

END OF CHASE: David Probst, 21, and his wife, Paula, 16, both of Joliet, Ill., embrace following their arrest by Paw Paw and Lawton police after high speed chase yesterday afternoon on I-94 east of Paw Paw. Both were charged with armed robbery in connection with hold-up of $85 from Lawrence gas station moments earlier. No one was injured in robbery or subsequent chase, police said. (Staff photos)

The woman then took a gun out of her purse and ordered Richardson and Arrans to stand back. While the couple was rifling the cash register, Arrans ran out the back and went to a nearby restaurant where he called state police.

Troopers then radioed a description of the hold-up suspects and car to area units.

Jumps Between Pa. Posts And Full-Time Job Here

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

A Pennsylvania newspaper has reported that Berrien county's director of environmental health currently holds two non-paying but demanding positions in Chester county, Pa., government, despite holding a $20,000 per year job here.

V. Harry Adronie was appointed director of environmental health with Berrien county's health department in mid-July by Berrien's board of health.

The West Chester, Pa., Daily Local News reported Adronie also heads Chester county's Water Resources Authority and earlier this week was appointed to that county's board of health by the Chester county board of commissioners.

"Don't pay any attention to the title of my Michigan job," the paper quoted Adronie as saying at the Chester board meeting. "Think of it as just a form of consulting work. And it's really not full-time."

"Well, it's sort of full-time... but I don't think I'll have any trouble handling the jobs," the News quoted Adronie.

Before joining Berrien's health department as director of environmental health, Adronie was director of environmental protection for the Chester county health department.

At the time Adronie joined Berrien's health department, health department officials said Adronie would make his home in St. Joseph. A V. Harry Adronie is listed at 3905 Lakeshore drive, St. Joseph — the Lakecrest apartments.

The News, however, reported Adronie said talk that he was going to move (from Chester county) was untrue, and Adronie said as proof he had just put an addition on his house. An associate of Adronie told this newspaper that Adronie said his Chester county house is worth about $165,000.

The News quoted Adronie as saying during the Chester county commissioners' meeting he had been "hearing rumors that I have not been staying in Chester county enough." The News said Adronie replied the criticism was unjustified because: "I keep in touch."

The 60-year-old Adronie said he retired from the Air Force Tuesday and released Friday.

Berrien's environmental health unit handles a number of functions, including inspections for restaurants, ambulances, landfills, well-drilling equipment, potable water, campgrounds and trailers, rental housing, septic tank

Radio Sermons Part Of Racket

WASHINGTON (AP) — When is Luke, chapter 3, verse 15 not a scriptural reference? When it is broadcast as a tip for winning bets in an illegal "numbers" game, says the Federal Communications Commission.

The FCC said tips disguised as scriptural references were sprinkled in some religious radio programs broadcast in the nation's capital.

And for this and other reasons, the agency revoked the license for United Broadcasting Co., Inc., to run radio station WOOK and gave it to a new group which includes newspaper columnist Jack Anderson.

"The record clearly establishes that WOOK's facilities were used by various ministers to broadcast programs offering three-digit scripture citations in return for monetary donations," said the FCC decision made Tuesday and released Friday.

STATE 'AG' BOARD MEETS Growers Air Complaints

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Area farmers and growers voiced a wide range of complaints and got some sympathetic attention yesterday during a meeting of the Michigan Agriculture Commission.

Subject matter ranged from delays in loading Russian-bound grain to a growing list of federal agencies that complicate a farmer's life.

Some 50 people attended the day-long session at the St. Joseph Holiday Inn.

"The success of the grain boycott shows that consumers are confused," B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said.

"Can some governmental agencies be combined so that farmers don't have as many agencies to deal with?" asked Thomas Dewhurst, of Benton Harbor.

Federal agencies such as the Environmental Protection Agency write laws, many of which are harmful to farmers, simply "to justify their existence," State Rep. Harry Gast (R-St. Joseph) said.

Michigan's Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining law is responsible for the fact that the state's fruit industry "is in bad shape," Niles grower Stanley Radewald offered.

"I wish I could move my 400 acres of fruit into Indiana," said Stan Clupper, rural Dowagiac farmer who added that the state legislature "is doing jingody things to the fruit industry."

Those were but a few of the comments during the meeting of the five-member commission which is a part of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Among other duties the commission appropriates money for advertising Michigan produce. For the first time in years, no request for advertising funds was made by the Benton Harbor Fruit Market.

According to Benton Harbor City Manager Charles Morrison the city must match every advertising dollar which it receives from the state. And the Benton Harbor Market board determined that the advertising does not help the market.

City funds could be better spent on repairs at the market, Morrison added.

Agriculture Secretary Ball said agricultural exports are important to this country "for the balance of trade and the strength of the dollar."

"If denied foreign markets," he said, American farmers won't earn enough money "to stay alive." If consumers understood this, he interjected, they would not favor AFL-CIO President George Meany, who endorsed a boycott of Russian-bound grain ships staged by the International Longshoremen's Association. "He couldn't do it if the consumers understood."

"To neutralize the anti-farmer attitude that city people have," Ball plans a nationwide publicity program coordinated by all state departments of agriculture. Stressed, he said, would be statements like: "In 1776 agriculture was the only industry. In 1976 agriculture can lead this country out of the recession, not by attacking Meany, but by exporting $25 billion worth of farm products — more than the U.S. spends on imported oil."

The state's marketing and bargaining law, which for the first time gives farmers a legal voice in price negotiations, was criticized on grounds that it tends to make Michigan-grown produce higher in price than out-of-state produce.

This is a disadvantage because much of the state's commodities are sold in competition with other states, it was pointed out.

As to Dewhurst's question about cutting the number of agencies, Ball said the agencies are set up by Congress. Although "some decisions from federal agencies are just completely wrong," they can't be changed. "I don't think we've got the clout to accomplish it," Ball added.

Dewhurst was given a Resolution of Commendation yesterday by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. He was a member of the commission from 1967 until this April, when he retired.

COMMENDED: Thomas Dewhurst (right), secretary of House of David, Benton Harbor, received commendation for eight years of service on the Michigan Agriculture Commission yesterday. He retired from the commission this April and attended September meeting yesterday in St. Joseph. Congratulating Dewhurst is Charles Donaldson, commission chairman. Commission annually holds one meeting a year in Twin Cities area. (Staff photo)

Family In Coloma Welcomes A New Son

Adoption Of Korean Orphan Follows Tragic Death Of Daughter

COLOMA — A Coloma family racked by tragedy two years ago when their 4-year-old daughter died in a freak accident, have opened up their hearts to a new member of the family — a 6½-year-old Korean boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Goldner, 182 Harriet street, adopted the Korean orphan, whose new name is Daniel Kim Goldner, after waiting 16 months before their dream of adopting a child came true.

The Goldners' first decided to adopt a child following the tragic death of their younger daughter, Sheri, in the summer of 1973. Sheri was accidentally strangled when a cape she was wearing around her neck caught on a neighbor's slide while she was playing.

"I've always wanted a boy," Goldner said. "We've both wanted a child, but we both didn't like the circumstances that brought it about," he said in referring to tragic death of their daughter.

The Goldners picked up their new son Wednesday night at Chicago's O'Hare airport. The youngster was adopted through the Holt Adoption program, based in Eugene, Ore., after the Goldners obtained information about the program from their minister, the Rev. Elvin Harden of the Midway Baptist church, Watervliet.

The Goldners decided to adopt a Vietnamese or Korean orphan, since they wouldn't have to wait as long as the process of adopting an American-born orphan.

At O'Hare airport, the Goldners were among eight families waiting to meet their adopted children. "The reaction of the people in meeting their new child was very moving," Mrs. Goldner said, "with the children holding on to them very tight."

The Korean children came from different orphanages, with their new son Kim, spending the last four years in an orphanage in Sungwon, Korea, according to Mr. Goldner.

Their new son was found abandoned when he was 2 years old. His true birthdate and parents are unknown, but a birthdate of Feb. 20, 1969, was arrived at by medical officials.

The Goldner's daughter, Debbie, 9, a fourth grader at Coloma elementary school said, "Although Kim can't speak English, if he wants your attention, he'll pull on your shirt sleeve."

Of her new son whom she calls "Danny," Mrs. Goldner said he "always cleans his plate of food at the table, but he doesn't go for seconds. After he finishes eating he gathers up his dishes and takes them to the sink."

Berrien Springs House Wins Architect A Prize

CHICAGO — A home created from a 100-year-old barn at Berrien Springs was one of 13 structures to win a distinguished building award in competition sponsored by the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Architects (A.I.A.).

According to a story in today's issue of the Chicago Tribune, the 100-year-old converted barn, called Frog Hollow, was designed by Stanley Tigerman and associates, a Chicago firm.

The Tribune article reports that the distinguished building awards, announced yesterday, "...are the highest such awards bestowed locally (Chicago) in a contest open only to chapter members, but embracing work the members have done in Chicago and other areas."

The Berrien Springs structure, owned by Dr. James F. Christensen, a Berrien Springs veterinarian, was one of five honored structures outside of Chicago.

The Tribune article stated, "Most of the awards went to rather low-key, understated buildings, with one or two spectacular exceptions."

Tigerman and associates also won an award for design work done at Chicago boutique called Bottega Glaseia at 49 East Oak street.

Judges for the competition included three Boston-area architects selected by the A.I.A. Models and photographs of the buildings went on display today at the Art Institute.

Other winning buildings were located in Kansas City, Mo.; Elmhurst, Ill.; Vashon Island, Wash.; and San Juan Capistrano, Cal., as well as Chicago.

Mrs. Goldner says her son says his prayers every night and the first day the family heard him say two words in plain English — "chicken" and "oh boy" when he saw Mrs. Goldner preparing chicken for dinner.

Restores Charm To Pictures

OLD PHOTOGRAPH RESTORED

ORIGINAL OLD PHOTOGRAPH

By MARYANNE BUTT
Staff Writer

Preserving memories by restoring old, timeworn photographs and restoring them to their original charm — or better — is artist Rosemary DiGregorio's specialty.

Mrs. DiGregorio, of Stevensville, says she loves old things, and bringing the people in old pictures "out of the past and back to life."

A fragile, damaged old photograph, through this restoration process, results in a color painting that will last almost forever and can be pulled out of the attic and displayed in a prominent place of the home, Mrs. DiGregorio says.

The process, she says, begins with the making of a negative. Mrs. DiGregorio then retouches the negative, using black toned dyes and lead. Then a print is made, any size, and immersed in a toner that will make the picture a sepia color. The sepia color is obtained because a black would make the skin tones too muddy, she says.

Next, Mrs. DiGregorio uses a tiny touch-up brush and, with brown dyes, covers up flaws and rips which were in the original picture.

Mrs. DiGregorio then applies the oil paints, which she says should never fade, to the picture. If she or the owner of the picture knew the person in the picture personally, then the coloring is determined from memory. If not, one was acquainted with the subject, she makes her own tones judgment from the original black and white photograph.

She began this style of painting about 25 years ago as a high school student when she worked at a photographic studio coloring their photos. She studied the process formally three years ago at Winona, Ind., School of Photography. She says to master the entire art form, a person needs not only to have a basic knowledge of photography and the art of retouching, but must have artistic talent as well.

She has also studied under Harold Elias and Phyllis Rhodes, and at Lake Michigan college.

Mrs. DiGregorio and her husband, Louis, have three children. They reside on Bonnie Bruce drive in Stevensville, where Mrs. DiGregorio's kitchen table serves as her "studio."

Congregation To Celebrate Glenn Church's 75th Year

GLENN UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

GLENN — The congregation of Glenn United Methodist church will celebrate the church's 75th anniversary with special services Sunday, Sept. 21.

A communion service will be held at 9:30 a.m. and an anniversary service will be held at 2:30 p.m. A potluck dinner is planned at 4:30 p.m.

The church building was constructed in 1900 and dedicated in 1901.

Intermittent Methodist services had been held in the Glenn area since the mid 1800s. A class had been organized but during the pastorate of N.M. Steele it was abandoned and later reorganized by the Rev. E.H. King. The services continued until the second year of the pastorate of the Rev. W.F. Harding, when the appointment was dropped. Five years later a Sunday school was organized in a home.

In the spring of 1899, the Rev. A.M. Griffith of Ganges secured the Rev. Ralph Randall as an assistant and a new chapter was started at Glenn.

According to the bulletin of Dedication Day, Feb. 10, 1901, "In September, 1899, J.W. Foy was appointed pastor. During the present pastorate, the membership increased to thirty-one and six probationers. During the past few years several attempts have been made to build a church but the efforts proved futile. In March, 1900, the present pastor, with the assistance of Rev. A.M. Griffith began the circulation of a subscription paper for the purpose of building a church. Subscriptions to the amount of $2,000 were secured. Work on the new building began in July of 1900.

The only changes to the structure in the past 75 years have been the addition of a kitchen in the back of the structure and the changing of the front steps from the side to the front of the building.

Services are held each Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 204. Haman is Executed

After Haman's humiliation of honoring Mordecai when he had expected to hang him, he went in with the king to Esther's second banquet. Once more, the king prodded Esther to make her request.

Then Esther told her king that she could not be silent when a wicked man had plotted the senseless destruction of her and of all her people. Astonished, the king asked her who had done so. "And Esther said, The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen." (Esther 7:6)

King Ahasuerus walked away into the garden, and Haman begged Esther for his life. In despair, he fell upon the couch where the queen reclined just as the king returned. The king, thinking Haman meant to flout the queen in front of him, ordered the death mask thrown over him. A chamberlain said, "...Behold also, the gallows 50 cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had spoken good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman. Then the king said, Hang him thereon. So they hanged him on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified." (Esther 7:9-10)

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Hold For 'Over-Endowed'

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl in my early teens. This is not an easy letter to write.

Every now and then somebody complains about being fat as a board. When they ask about exercises or creams to enlarge their bustlines I get green with envy. Don't the 'Flat Florences' of this world know they can buy padded bras?

What help is there for us 'Busty Barbaras'? I'm only 16, weigh 110 lbs. and already I'm a 34D cup.

Normally I would wear a size 36 dress, but I must buy a 12 between anything smaller is too tight across the bust.

My shoulders are always sore from the bra straps digging in. It's too heavy a load for those one-lap straps. Please help me — and others who are — Over-Endowed.

Dear O.E.: An embarrassment of riches, one might say — but fret not. You can be helped. Please note: This advice is NOT for women who are simply full-busted. It's for those who have a tremendous excess. Plastic surgery can relieve you of the burden. But 16 is quite young for this operation. Check with two good doctors, then get a third opinion to be on the safe side.

Try Library

Dear Ann Landers: We bought a turtle from a pet store last week for our son, age 7. Bill had been wanting a turtle for a year but we wanted to make sure he was old enough to take care of it properly.

The man who sold us 'Blue Eyes' said he could eat anything and suggested we keep him in a cool place.

At 7:00 this morning Billy came racing into our bedroom screaming, "Blue Eyes is dead."

We rushed the turtle to the small-animal hospital. He wasn't dead but he had a bad case of pneumonia. We were told turtles should be kept in temperatures between 75 and 80 degrees. "Blue Eyes" died that afternoon.

Tell your readers that just because a person works in a pet store doesn't mean he knows much about animals. The man who sold us the turtle was obviously a nincompoop.

All libraries have excellent information on how to care for pets. Warn your readers not to take the word of employees, but to read up on the subject themselves. — Learned The Hard Way

ANN LANDERS

Dear Learned: Thanks for the tip-off. I hope you returned to the pet store and gave the nincompoop a good what-for to listen to.

Real Estate

Dear Ann Landers: It's amazing how many people think real estate agents draw a salary, drive company cars with paid-for gas and make a load of money. The truth is, we are self-employed and work strictly on commission.

First we must study for the Real Estate Board, pass tests, buy our own licenses and pay fees to local, state and national boards so we can legally act as real estate agents.

You wouldn't believe the tricks people play to get us out of our commissions. It's maddening to spend hours with prospects, show them house after house, drive their friends and relatives back time after time to see the places, and then discover we've been cut out altogether.

A word from you would help educate the public. Thanks, friend. — Tired And Mad

Dear T and M: You don't need a word from me. You said it loud and clear. I hope your letter helps the hard-working agents get a better shake.

Parents, what should you do if your teenager is having sexual relations? Ann Landers's new booklet, "High School Sex And How To Deal With It — A Guide For Teens And Their Parents," gives no-nonsense advice on how to handle this delicate situation. For each booklet, send 50 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

"Monument to the Dream" records the erection of the Arch, America's tallest national monument standing on the west bank of the Mississippi river at St. Louis. The monument, designed by the late architect, Eero Saarinen, commemorates the spirit of the pioneers who settled the West after the Louisiana Purchase.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Is there any age that is best for the application of braces for the teeth?

Mrs. J.D. Mabe

Dear Mrs. D.: There is no universal age at which orthodonture should be started. Each dental problem must be individually evaluated.

This highly specialized subdivision of dentistry has progressed enormously in the past 25 years. It is now well known that the preservation of teeth in the child can determine the eventual dental health of the adult.

Irregularly spaced teeth and teeth that are crooked and bunched, may interfere with the normal growth of the jaw.

Some speech defect can be traced to abnormal structural changes in the mouth.

Your own dentist is in the ideal position to determine when to consult the orthodonture specialist. He, then, with X-rays and casts, decides exactly when the child is ready to begin reconstructive work.

One of the major problems that arises in orthodonture is that parents fail to get an early opinion and hope that the teeth will grow properly, even without orthodontic help. This is a mistake. It complicates the dental problems and may reduce the orthodontist's eventual result.

It is unusual for a newborn baby to be frightened by loud noises?

Mrs. R.B. Tenn

Dear Mrs. B.: Loud noises may produce a "startle reflex." This is perfectly normal. Some children may react more violently than others and still stay within normal limits.

Doctors very often use the startle reflex in infants to determine if there is some hearing impairment.

There are now many new techniques by which suspected deafness in infants can be established.

A number of the women in our family have enlargement of the thyroid gland. Can this be a family trait?

Miss E.E. Okla.

Dear Miss E.: Thyroid enlargement is not a hereditary condition. One of the reasons why it may occur frequently in a family is that the members of that family live in an area where there is a deficiency of iodine in the water.

It is said that thyroid goiter occurs in almost 20 per cent of the population who live where the iodine content of the water is poor.

People who live in these communities are told by their doctors to use iodized salt to replenish any deficiency.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "Alcoholism — A Family Disease." It probes this grave problem and offers helpful advice. WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has cut off the House intelligence committee's access to U.S. secrets because of the panel's four-word disclosure of American monitoring of communications in the Middle East.

A committee source said the four words that irked Ford and the U.S. intelligence community was a phrase showing that Egyptian communications were monitored before the 1973 Middle East war.

The phrase was in one of five excerpts from top-secret intelligence assessments released by the committee Thursday.

Several words were blocked out at the request of intelligence officials, but the committee refused by a 6 to 3 vote to delete four words that met objections.

The committee source said the phrase is in a Defense Intelligence Agency summary of the day of Egypt's invasion of the Sinai. The summary said that despite "mobilization of some personnel, increased readiness of isolated units and greater communications security" by Egypt, there were no indications that Egypt planned a war with Israel.

Asked if the phrase "and greater communications security" was the one the officials wanted kept secret, the committee source said: "I can't say you're wrong."

Ford sent word to the committee Friday that the disclosure would be "serious and irreparable harm," and he asked for the immediate return of all secret material that had been turned over to it.

The message was delivered by Asst. Atty. Gen. Rex E. Lee, who said the President also had directed that no more secret material be furnished to the committee until it agreed not to disclose anything over intelligence officials' objections.

Chairman Otis G. Pike, D.N.Y., said Ford's action would close down the committee's investigations temporarily. He said the panel will meet next week, possibly Wednesday, on what action to take but doubted it would return the secret information it already has.

Central Intelligence Director William E. Colby told newsmen that the disclosure that the United States monitors communications was no problem, but that a reference to a specific operation was.

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) —
Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Friday state officials could not delay bi-monthly school aid payments in order to avoid large deficits in state funds.

Kelley rejected a plan under which aid money would be split in half and paid every month.

But an official in the state Treasury said Friday his department may do just that — if it has the power.

Kelley told the Administrative Board, a committee of top state officials who make administrative decisions, it could not pay half the October school aid payment in that month and half in November.

will increase to nearly $300 million with a full October bi-monthly payment. The collection of taxes in mid-October would drop that down to some $100 million to $150 million, he said.

The "red balance" is now about $250 million, he said, although taxes due soon will take that down to about $100 million.

from such restricted funds as the highway fund and Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund to meet the payments, he said: "It's getting to the point that we are using too large an amount of those funds to be considered prudent," he added.

Newson said the state probably will borrow money to make the December payment, to avoid dipping further into the restricted funds.

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., says the disappearance of ex-Teamsters' president Jimmy Hoffa may have been arranged by organized crime in a caper involving union pension funds.

Griffin said Friday that a congressional probe of Teamster pension funds may be needed to aid investigators seeking to learn what happened to the ex-labor leader, who vanished without a trace on July 30.

officials on their job, the grand jury do its job, and see what happens," Griffin said at a news conference in Washington. "But it may well be that down the road some committee should hold some investigations."

Kelley, enroute to Marquette to address a convention of state court administrators, said in Sault Ste. Marie: "I am hopeful we can find something."

"If this is a professional disappearance, masterminded by organized criminals, there may never be any clue. Unfortunately this case may turn out to be what many organized disappearances have been in the past...a missing persons case and there never will be any evidence." Kelley added.

In Detroit, the grand jury probing the case succeeded in retaining control of an auto belonging to the son of a reputed Mafia chieflain. The FBI believes the car may provide a clue to the baffling disappearance.

Trained dogs detected Hoffa's scent in the back seat and trunk of the car after it was seized Aug. 9.

Joseph Giacalone, 22, of St. Clair Shores, was found in contempt of court after he told the grand jury he would refuse to honor a subpoena issued Monday.

But under a threat of a jail term from U.S. District Court Judge Thomas Thornton, Giacalone agreed to comply with the subpoena. Giacalone's father is Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone, named in Senate testimony as a "big man" in the Mafia in Detroit.

Milliken Uses Veto To Pare Budget

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken, hoping to balance Michigan's tight $3.04 billion budget, used his veto Friday to knock out $6.9 million in spending.

With all budget bills signed into law, the Department of Management and Budget calculated $4.6 million of the vetoed money is gone for good. The governor plans to ask for supplemental appropriations to replace the other money later in the fiscal year.

The complicated method of cutting spending was required because it was impossible to veto some unwanted projects without wiping out other projects to which the governor had no objection, state budget director Gerald Miller said Friday. The way budget bills are written, it is occasionally impossible to cut a single program.

The most controversial cut by Milliken came from colleges and universities, where he raised a howl by striking out $1.3 million for health programs at Ferris State College.

He only wanted to eliminate $211,000 for a planned optometric school but had to slash the entire $1.3 million because of the way the appropriations bill was written, Miller said. Miller said supplemental appropriations will replace the other money.

State Sen. John Toepf of Cadillac, a Republican like Milliken, says he may try to get the legislature to override the optometric school veto. Toepf represents the district that encompasses Big Rapids, where Ferris State is located.

Milliken cut higher education by $1.6 million, but the final cut will be $400,000 after the other money is restored, Miller said. Miller said other cuts included $352,000 for the Secretary of State's office, with the final reduction to total $200,000; $285,000 from the Department of Education; $900,000 from intermediate school districts; $2.1 million from the State Police; $1.1 million from the Department of Natural Resources; with the final cut to be $420,000; $135,000 from the Department of Agriculture; and $100,000 from the Department of Public Health.

The budget is tenuously balanced, but Miller has already warned state colleges to be prepared for further budget cuts. The governor can order spending cutbacks with the approval of the Senate and House appropriations committees.

Last year, Milliken twice had to issue orders to cut the budget to bring spending into line with slumping revenues. And a final, balanced budget June 30 was achieved only with the aid of a bookkeeping juggle that applied some July tax revenues to the past fiscal year.

Weapons Cost Take Big Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has reported that the price of 40 large weapons systems, including the Navy's F-14 fighter plane and the Trident nuclear submarine, rose $1.25 billion from March to June.

Family Planning Funds Cut

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Federal funds for family planning services in Michigan have been cut nearly in half for next year, state officials say.

Donlin Pangborn, head of family planning for the State Department of Health, said he was notified Friday that federal support for the program has been cut 42 per cent, from $1.9 million to $1.1 million.

The services, used by more than 110,000 Michigan residents last year, include contraceptive prescriptions, tubal ligations, laboratory tests and examinations. The office does not receive state funds.

Pangborn said the family planning services will be cut next year for as many as 14,000 people in 81 of the state's 83 counties. Wayne and Macomb counties are served by the Southeast Michigan Family Planning Corp.

A U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare official said the funding cuts were necessary, in part, because Congress has not yet appropriated $115 million already authorized for national family planning in the fiscal year that began July 1.

"But the cuts are also due to an attempt to realign the money with the areas of greatest unmet need," said Aurelius Clayton, a HEW family planning consultant in Chicago. "Michigan was cut, but it could have been a lot worse."

Appellate Judges Say Rivals No Courtroom Match

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state court of appeals has overturned the assault and battery conviction of ultra-conservative Donald Lobsinger, because an avowed Marxist judge did not disqualify himself from the case.

The appeals court Friday said Lobsinger's motion to be tried before someone other than Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Justin Ravitz should have been granted.

Lobsinger, head of the rightwing "Breakthrough" organization in the Detroit area, was convicted by a jury of knocking down the Rev. Thomas Hinsberg during a January 1973 peace vigil on the steps of Blessed Sacrament Cathedral in Detroit. Hinsberg has since left the church and married.

Ravitz, an activist for leftwing causes, sentenced Lobsinger to 45 days in jail, but Lobsinger has never served time because of a pending appeal.

Lobsinger and Ravitz previously appeared on the same radio program and showed up at various political demonstrations and rallies, the appeals court said.

"It is safe to say that neither man has a high opinion of the other," the court said.

The court added that Lobsinger and Ravitz hold "diametrically opposed political views" and that it was crucial to determine if "this mutual disrespect transcends political disagreement and reaches a point of personal intolerance." Lobsinger was tried before Ravitz after two other Recorder's Court judges disqualified themselves. A third judge rejected Lobsinger's motion for a trial before someone other than Ravitz.

In a hearing on whether he should be taken off the case, Ravitz admitted under oath that he once called Lobsinger a "worm" during a 1973 encounter.

"I was walking back to court one noon hour and I was near Brush Street when I said to myself: 'Here comes Mr. Lobsinger.' His face went into some rather bizarre contortions," Ravitz testified. "I said rather softly: 'Hello, worm.' Mr. Lobsinger was ranting and raving and I walked on."

Ravitz said Friday the appeals court judges should have disqualified themselves from hearing the case "because they have diametrically opposed views from me and Mr. Lobsinger."

"They should have dealt with the fairness or unfairness of the trial," he said. "Ask them what took them so long."

The appeals court said the critical point was Ravitz's own testimony before the reviewing Recorder's Court judge that "some personal degree of animus" existed between Ravitz and Lobsinger and that the hostility was "real."

Sen. Hart Recuperating

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors at Bethesda Naval Medical Center say Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., faces five to 10 more days of hospitalization following removal of a possibly cancerous pea-sized nodule from his right lung. Hart, 62, underwent the surgery Thursday and was reported in satisfactory condition afterward. Doctors discovered the nodule after they ran tests to find the primary source of another small cancerous nodule on his left arm 2½ weeks ago. Doctors said they suspect the lung nodule also is cancerous and said further treatment or tests would be ordered after results of the examination of the growth are completed next week. Hart announced in June that he would retire from the Senate when his second six-year term expires next year.

Officer Chases Armed Man

ST. LOUIS (AP) — President Ford maintained a tight schedule on his four-stop visit here despite a report that an armed man had been seen in a hall where he was to speak, and a series of bomb threats. The first reports of possible trouble came even before the Ford entourage reached its first stop Friday, a television station where a news conference was scheduled for 1 p.m. An armed man was reported on a catwalk above the stage at Kiel Auditorium, where the President was to speak later in the day. Patrolman Thomas Calcaterra said he saw a gun in the man's hand and began to chase him. But the man, about six-foot tall and wearing what appeared to be a black wig, escaped into the Opera House section of the building.

Rocky Fears Excess Charity

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller thinks two American traditions, the Judeo-Christian heritage and free enterprise, are at odds and too much charity may destroy the country. Rockefeller is on a two-day swing through the Southwest that began in Dallas on Friday and ends with a visit to the Oregon - Oklahoma college football game and a fund-raising dinner in Enid, Okla., tonight. In a talk to party contributors Friday night, Rockefeller said the problem comes from programs which are "all well-meaning, all designed to protect people."

Boston Officials Happy

BOSTON (AP) — The first week of citywide school desegregation has passed without major disruption. While attendance continued to lag, but officials said they were happy with the unexpected calm. About 1,500 mothers and children marched peacefully Friday through four white neighborhoods. They prayed, sang "God Bless America" and insisted their children were not going to ride buses to school. There was no repetition Friday night of the street vandalism and stoning that occurred the four previous nights in two white districts where antibusing sentiment runs high. A heavy rain soaked the city.

NYC Teacher Talks Falter

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations in New York City's teachers' strike have faltered over $43 million the city had allocated for a settlement, but now says is unavailable. Participants in the talks said Friday that the Board of Education and the United Federation of Teachers would be able to iron out their differences if they had the money. A state-fact-finding board also issued recommendations based on the availability of the $43 million. But Mayor Abraham D. Beame and Gov. Hugh L. Carey both said the financially beleaguered city could no longer afford the $43 million originally budgeted for a teachers' wage increase.

Isabel Leaves On Vacation

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Isabel Peron, under attack for failing to solve Argentina's political and economic woes, leaves today for a 33-day vacation. Senate President Iloko Luder was named to assume the duties of president during Mrs. Peron's absence. The government announcement on Friday gave no explanation for the leave, but Foreign Minister Angel F. Robledo said Mrs. Peron was taking the time off for health reasons.

SOIL TEST

You may wish to have your garden soil tested now to begin preparations for next year's gardening. If time is needed it is best applied now so that it has time to work before crops are set out next year. Soil samples should be taken from 4 to 5 locations in the garden and mixed for a composite sample. Bring about 1 pint to the Cooperative Extension Office in the courthouse, St. Joseph, for testing. The test costs $1. A recommendation for fertilizer will be made according to test results.

PLANT STRESS

Now is an excellent time to look around your landscape for signs of stress in trees and shrubs. Early fall color is an indication that vigor is down and that possibly more attention should be given to them. A single limb or two in a tree showing color while the rest are green may indicate injury from borers or disease. In dry years the early color may indicate inadequate watering. Make a mental note to baby affected plants. Provide moisture this winter if it gets dry, fertilize next spring. Do not fertilize this fall. It could force new growth or now allow the wood to harden off before winter, thus resulting in winter injury.

Q. — I bought a second-hand portable electric drill. I have never been using it frequently, even though I did very little do-it-yourselfing in the past. There is a reversing switch on the drill and I haven't quite figured out what benefit there is to having the drill spin in reverse. Can you give me some advice?

A. — It is quite possible to have a reverse switch on an electric drill and never have need of it for a long time. That's because it is used for such infrequent tasks as removing jammed drills, cleaning out drill holes and removing screws. In the last instance, you would require an accessory for driving screws.

ONE AUTHOR SAYS:

Old Houses Have Allure

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newsfeatures Writer

Experience is "a great teacher in house fixing" and author Christopher Fahy went through it step by step. In fact, he has "fixed up" three houses — crumbling, leaking or sagging, all of them — and has vowed each time "never again."

Why should one bother fixing up an old house, he asks, and provide some of the answers in his new book, "Home Remedies."

The country abounds in old wrecks of houses, he insists. They can usually be bought for little, because they are hard to sell. But one must pick a solid house in a good spot requiring no major structural changes, with plaster and woodwork in good condition and details such as mantels, fireplaces and banisters intact.

Even if wiring, plumbing, heating and other jobs are done by others, if you can do minor carpentry, repair walls, ceilings, floors, windows, doors and do your own painting and some other miscellaneous repairs, you will save a lot of money over what you'd pay for a new or renovated place, in his opinion.

Fahy found that fixing an old place makes you competent in the repair department. You don't panic at every crack you spot in your house, or when a window falls out. You fix it yourself.

He does think that a little experience is necessary before you tackle a house. Fixing up an old apartment or helping some friends with their own wreck might help.

He provides a checklist of things that could be wrong with an old house (but most, especially city row houses, are structurally sound, he says reassuringly).

Some of his advice includes:

- An inspection service that provides a list of all the things they find wrong with the house is well worth the cost — perhaps $50 or $100.
- Once you have that service you can query workmen or friends on the cost of fixing the place.
- As he points out, fix-up costs vary with the size of your house and where you live.
- Contractor costs vary because the price of carpenters varies. Prices on lumber, plasterboard, paint and other materials will vary.
- In fact, Fahy suggests socking on another 20 per cent after you've added everything "because it always costs more than you think."

Maryland Village Will Celebrate Canonization

By TERRY COLVIN
Associated Press Writer
EMMITSBURG, Md. (AP) — About 20,000 people are expected in this hamlet of small brick row houses and narrow winding streets Sunday to celebrate the canonization of Elizabeth Ann Seton, America's first native-born saint.

Emmitsburg, Md., 10 miles south of Gettysburg, Pa., in the shadow of the Catoctin Mountains, was chosen by Mother Seton in 1809 as the place to found the Daughters of Charity of St. Joseph. A year earlier, she had started the first parochial school in the nation in Baltimore.

It is here also that her remains are enshrined, and the imposing, red brick headquarters of her order overlook the village.

All day Sunday, prelates from throughout the East will celebrate mass in honor of her canonization in Rome by Pope Paul VI, culminating a 94-year effort to bestow sainthood on Mother Seton, who died in 1821.

Cardinal Lawrence Shehan, former archbishop of Baltimore and William D. Borders, the present archbishop, will join some 8,000 other Americans at the Vatican for the veneration. Beginning at 11:50 a.m., the Pangborn Memorial Carillon at Mount Saint Mary's College here will be rung for 10 minutes. Following each mass, to be said in the chapel in which the saint's remains are enshrined, a relic of Mother Seton will be venerated by the priests.

Sister Mary Clare Hughes, provincial superior of the Emmitsburg Province of the Daughters of Charity, and one of Mother Seton's boosters, says, "I am overjoyed at the thought that canonization will take place this year — a holy year and the year of woman."

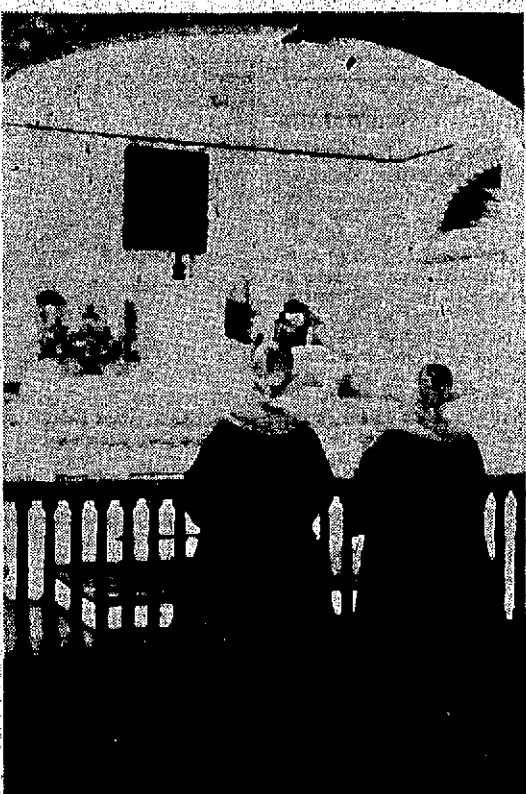

Mother Seton was born in New York City in 1774. A former socialite and Episcopal convert, she left New York when her husband died in 1803. She was the mother of five children.

Mother Seton has been credited with the supposed cure of three persons suffering from terminal cancer who prayed to her.

One of them, Anne O'Neill Hooe, 27, of Severn, Md., will be in Rome for the canonization. Her father, William O'Neill, will bring her four children here to attend one of the masses.

Anne O'Neill, the beneficiary of the second of the three miracles, was 14 when she was confined to St. Agnes Hospital in Baltimore suffering from what doctors said was terminal leukemia. A nun at the hospital told her mother about Mother Seton, and she began praying for "divine intercession" to spare her child's life.

Besides the O'Neill case, Mother Seton is said to have cured Sister Gertrude Korzen-dorfer of New Orleans of pancreatic cancer in 1934 and Carl Kalin of New York City of brain cancer in 1963. The Kalin case was verified by a Vatican Tribunal last year and prompted the canonization decree.

MOMENT OF PRAYER: Two sisters kneel in prayer in a small chapel on the campus of St. Joseph College, founded by Elizabeth Ann Seton, near Emmitsburg, Md. Mother Seton, a New York society woman who converted to Catholicism and became a nun, is scheduled to become the first U.S.-born saint in ceremonies to be held at the Vatican Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

The Daughters of Charity now include six religious communities with more than 11,000 members in the United States and seven foreign countries. The service, a Mass encompassing a 15-minute canonization ceremony, will begin at 9:30 a.m. as Pope Paul VI, robed in white, leads a solemn procession into St. Peter's Square in Vatican City.

Niles Dad's Arrearage Lands Him Behind Bars

A Niles man, arrested on a writ of attachment which claimed he was $1,842 in arrears in his child support, was sentenced to 60 days in jail by an acting Berrien Circuit court judge.

Acting Circuit Judge Ronald Lange imposed the sentence on Francisco Gutierrez, of 838 Cherry street, after finding him in contempt of court for $1,842 arrears for one child on ADC. Lange also placed him on one year probation, and ordered him to find employment within 30 days of his release from jail or he will be sentenced to 60 more days in jail.

Sellers Advised To Get Estimates

By STEVE McQUOWN
Staff Writer

"Get more than one estimate on old coins you want to sell," an investigator for Berrien county's Consumer Protection unit has warned.

Randy Arnt, an investigator for CPU, issued the warning after taking coins he said were valued at $355 wholesale to an out-of-state coin buyer who has set up shop for two days in the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn.

He said the company, U.S. Smelting company, offered him $65 for the coins.

"The coins Arnt took to the firm were the property of, and their value documented by, a St. Joseph coin dealer, Arnt said.

"While there is nothing illegal about making this far-below wholesale offer (for the coins), we are bringing it to the public's attention," Arnt said.

In some cases, Arnt said, he was offered less than 10 percent of the wholesale value of the coins by the out-of-town firm.

He said for an 1858 silver three-cent piece worth $30, the dealer made an offer of 70 cents.

For a set of 48 Indian head pennies, and three Flying Eagle cent pieces, all with a total wholesale value of $350, the dealer offered $30, Arnt said.

The CPU is a division of the Berrien county prosecutor's office.

Dallas Tightens Ford Security

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Heavy security arrangements await President Ford in Dallas as he steps there to urge a larger role for women in political life.

Ford today is making his first visit as president to Dallas, where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated on Nov. 22, 1963. It follows close on the heels of an apparent attempt on his own life in Sacramento, Calif., last week and an assassination scare Friday in St. Louis.

The Dallas stop intermingles political and nonpolitical appearances. The President, aides said, would emphasize the role of women in politics in a speech to the convention of the National Federation of Republican Women.

He also arranged to attend a GOP fund-raising luncheon and address a special convocation commemorating the 80th anniversary of South Methodist University before flying to Midland, Tex., to help dedicate a petroleum museum and hall of fame.

At a Republican fund-raising dinner in Kansas City Friday night, Ford said the administration and Congress "are about to get 60 days" in which to develop a compromise energy program. He added:

"Isn't it hard to believe that since January of this year, there has not been one meaningful energy bill passed by Congress? Not one. It is unforgivable, and if the Congress does not do something, they are going to be responsible for the increasing vulnerability of this country to foreign oil cartels."

Warmly received in St. Louis and Kansas City, Ford mingled freely with crowds, seemingly bent on shaking every hand in sight.

One Hot, One Cool In St. Joe

One man is accused of losing his temper after paying a $31 traffic ticket in Fifth District court in St. Joseph Friday afternoon.

But another man kept his cool. A warrant has been issued accusing Patrick Jay Mead, 20, of 1851 Lyola, St. Joseph township, of malicious destruction of property, over $100, a felony. He allegedly ripped a thermostat from a courthouse wall.

Fifth District Judge John T. Hammond said Mead paid fine and costs totaling $31 for impeding traffic, but then "tore up the ticket into little pieces, threw them into the air and marched out of the courtroom."

Outside the courtroom, Mead allegedly ripped a heating thermostat from the wall before leaving the building.

The man who kept his cool, according to St. Joseph police, was a courthouse maintenance man, Michael Opulskis. Police said Opulskis witnessed the destruction of the thermostat.

Police said Opulskis then found the shredded traffic ticket and placed it together to find a name and address.

Police said a warrant was issued for Mead's arrest, but Mead hadn't been picked up, yet.

Assistant Prosecutor Sally Zack said it would cost some $115 to replace the thermostat.

Mead was issued the traffic ticket Sept. 2 on Napier avenue, Benton township, by a trooper from the Benton Harbor state police post. According to the ticket, "After a minor accident, Mead grabbed the driver of the other vehicle and started a fight causing a horrendous traffic jam."

Firemen Battle Brush Blaze

Twin City Area Crashes Hurt 5

Five people were injured Friday in four separate traffic accidents investigated by Twin Cities area police.

Berrien sheriff's deputies at 2:35 p.m. investigated a four-car pileup on M-139 near Miner road, Royalton township.

Treated and released from Memorial hospital was one of the drivers, Charles W. Tibbitts, 50, of 2724 Highland court, St. Joseph.

Other drivers, all reported unhurt, were: Lee Morgan, 17, of 4008 St. Joseph road, Berrien Springs; Bernice J. Zebell, 62, of 4652 Niles road, St. Joseph township; and Clark R. Action, 23, of 4419 Red Arrow highway, Stevensville.

Deputies said the chain-reaction type accident occurred when Morgan drove from a private driveway and struck the Zebell auto. Morgan was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way, deputies said.

Deputies said two people were injured in a two-car collision about 3:25 p.m. on Ohio street, near McKinley, Hagar township.

A driver, Julieen James, 38, of 3750 Huron street, Hagar Shores, was treated and released from Memorial hospital. A passenger in the James auto, Amanda Mae Kiser, 1, suffered a bruised lip but did not require hospital treatment, deputies said. The collision occurred when another auto, operated by Debra Sue Por, 17, of 545 Riverside, was backed from a private driveway, deputies said. A ticket for failure to stop when leaving a private driveway was issued to Miss Por, officers reported.

St. Joseph police said Theresa Lynn Rowlee, 17, of 990 Wedgewood, St. Joseph, was treated at Memorial hospital for a knee injury received in a two-car collision on Niles avenue near St. Joseph drive about 10:15 p.m. The other driver, John Maj, 41, of 1110 Highland avenue, St. Joseph, was reported unhurt. Police said Miss Rowlee was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

State police from the Benton Harbor post said an Eau Claire woman, Shirley Rose Sells, 49, of 6850 Sells road, was treated and released from Mercy hospital after a two-car collision about 4:15 p.m. at Meadowbrook and Bainbridge Center roads, Bainbridge township.

The other driver, Kevin Lee Ishmael, 17, of Meadowbrook road, Route 1, Benton Harbor, was unhurt. Ishmael was ticketed for careless driving, troopers said.

Niles Boy Is Injured In Crash

NILES — A three-year-old Niles township boy injured in a one-car crash south of here early this morning was listed in satisfactory condition at South Bend Memorial hospital today.

Being treated in the intensive care unit of the South Bend hospital for possible internal injuries was Todd Lorenc, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lorenc, Ontario road, Niles.

State police from the Niles post said the boy was a passenger in an auto being driven west on Ontario road by his father when it left the road and hit a tree about 2:30 a.m. today.

Police said John Lorenc, 29, who was not injured in the accident, was issued a citation for careless driving.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Tire Theft Attempt Is Nipped In Bud

Benton township police said two officers on routine patrol last night were at the right place at the right time and halted the theft of tires from new cars aboard a transport truck, arrested a man and recovered the tires.

Patrolmen Roger Popp and Donald Hartman arrested Emanuel McGinnis, 25, of 1822 Crystal court, Benton township. McGinnis was booked on a charge of breaking and entering a motor vehicle.

Popp and Hartman said the transport truck was parked in a lot behind Ramada Inn. The officers cruised through the lot on patrol duty about 10:10 p.m., but stopped when they saw another parked car by the truck. The car was unoccupied, but its engine was running, the officers said.

Inside, Popp and Hartman spotted what appeared to be four new wheels. A further investigation showed that four new autos on the truck had been broken into and their keys removed. The keys were used to open trunks.

Popp and Hartman said McGinnis was apprehended in a lot near the Ramada Inn lot and arrested after questioning and further investigation into the parked car.

The spare wheels were reported valued at $350 and were from trunks of a Ford Granada and three Mercury's.

In another tire theft earlier Friday, William Fruland of 1379 M-139 told township police four tires and wheels, valued at over $300, were stolen from his Corvette, parked in a lot off the 1100 block of East Napier avenue.

Regina Johnson, 21, of 693 East Main street, Benton Harbor, told city police her purse containing $193 was snatched by two men while she was walking home about 12:05 a.m. today.

Police were told the theft occurred in an alley between Winans and Benton streets, just south of Main, and the thieves fled on foot.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were:

—A skill saw, owned by General Building Maintenance, Benton Harbor and stolen from a firm job site at 784 Highland avenue.

—A space heater and toilet from a vacant house at 410 Rford, owned by George Schemenauer, Bangor.

—A $501 check from a South Bend firm, payable to Edna Jones, 1156 Bishop, and stolen from the home of her mother at 578 Edwards avenue.

—Clothing, a black light, two strobe lights and a pair of headphones, valued at $191, from the residence of Larry McClarty, 304, South Fair avenue.

Reported stolen to Berrien sheriff's officers Friday were two firearms, valued at $500; from a car, owned by Marilyn Weaver of Frederick and parked at the home of Weaver's brother-in-law, Richard Lenardson, Box 280 Gast road, Lake township.

about 10:15 p.m. The other driver, John Maj, 41, of 1110 Highland avenue, St. Joseph, was reported unhurt. Police said Miss Rowlee was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

State police from the Benton Harbor post said an Eau Claire woman, Shirley Rose Sells, 49, of 6850 Sells road, was treated and released from Mercy hospital after a two-car collision about 4:15 p.m. at Meadowbrook and Bainbridge Center roads, Bainbridge township.

Tiger Turnovers Give Kalamazoo Central 33-8 Win

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer
KALAMAZOO — According to statistics, Benton Harbor should have won its football game with Kalamazoo Central here Friday night.

The Tigers' balanced attack netted them 143 yards total offense, but they also gave up the ball five times as the Maroon Giants won 33-8 in Thomas Stadium.

Mike Schulz, Benton Harbor's senior quarterback, picked up where he left off last season. The 6-4, 225-pounder completed 11 of 19 passes for 173 yards.

Coach Eugene Jones also had a respectable ground game going as seven different men carried the ball for a net of 170 yards on the ground.

The big statistic Jones would have loved to lose was in the turnover category. The Giants converted four of the five Benton Harbor turnovers into scores and that spelled doom for the Tigers.

The first one they lost happened three seconds into the new season when Harold House took the opening kickoff to the 28-yard line, before Al Jackson's jarring tackle knocked the ball loose and Frank Woodson recovered it.

Two plays later, senior fullback Steve Smith, who gained 101 yards on 14 carries, broke three tackles and scored from 18 yards out. Mark Ferguson's kick was good so with 52 seconds gone in a brand new season, Benton Harbor was down 7-0.

"The fumble on the opening kickoff was the turning point of the game," said Jones.

It wasn't like the Tigers never had a chance to score in the contest. "We were in scoring position five times and couldn't get anything out of them," he commented.

And most scoring drives were defeated by the mistake route.

Schulz had the offense down to Central's 15-yard line only to have a screen pass intended for

Ray Thompson picked off and run 90 yards by Jackson for a score in the first quarter.

At the beginning of the second quarter, Jones put in his "powerhouse" backfield — Schulz at tailback and Keith Taylor (6-4, 250) at fullback. They succeeded in getting the ball down to Central's eight-yard line, mostly on the running of Taylor, before coughing it up.

The inexperienced Taylor was stacked up at the line so he tried to pitch back to his quarterback Eric Finley. The pitch was about a mile off the mark and Central's Tim Clydale recovered. Six minutes and 16 plays later, Albert Little took it over from the five.

The last turnover Central capitalized on happened in the third quarter when a Schulz pitch to speedster Maurice Burton missed its mark and Ferguson recovered. The Giant of offense put together another long drive, capped off when Terry Moorman hit Dave Clark with a 13-yard scoring strike.

"We came back in the second quarter but when we didn't score, we just went flat," said Jones. "We just made too many mental and physical mistakes.

"We're young...we'll be a much better ballclub next week," he added.

The Tigers' only score came midway through the last quarter when Schulz hit Burton with a little pop pass five yards past the line of scrimmage and Burton just kicked in the jets and outran everybody. Several people had a shot at the speedster.

The play of Burton had to be a bright spot in an otherwise dismal evening. He caught four passes for 104 yards and gained 66 yards rushing.

Central's head coach Jim Long didn't have much to say after the game because he missed a lot of it. When the Giants scored their first touchdown, one of Central's assistant coaches got so excited, he clipped Long in the head with his elbow and kneed him in the stomach. It almost knocked Long out.

Bears Get Late FG, Top Lancers In OT

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDS
Sports Editor
St. Joseph's eight-game winning streak — the longest in southwestern Michigan — is still alive today, thanks to the magic of Frank Bock's foot, the accuracy of Dave Ziebart's arm and the sticky fingers of Ted Dongvillo.

The clutch performances lifted the Bears from the grip of defeat and carried them to a season-opening 14-6 overtime victory over Lakeshore Friday night at Dickinson Stadium.

Bock thrilled St. Joe partisans among the estimated crowd of 4,500 with the Bears' only points during regulation time — field goals of 23 and 25 yards, including the game tying boot with just 13 seconds left in the final period which forced the overtime.

Ziebart scored the winning touchdown in the overtime on a 22-yard pass to Ted Dongvillo.

one-yard quarterback sneak, but it was his passing in the final scoring drive of regulation time which constantly brought fans to their feet.

The senior signal caller drove the trailing Bears more than 60 yards in about three minutes to set up Bock's tying field goal. He completed a perfect six of six pass attempts in the drive for 49 yards, including three receptions by Dongvillo for 34 yards.

"We couldn't stop them," said Lakeshore coach Dave Topping, who noted that the Lancers were even in a pass prevent defense during the march.

It marked the second straight year that Lakeshore just missed upending the favored Bears. Last season they won the battle of the statistics and still lost the game 20-13. The Bears now hold a 14-1 edge in the series which dates back to 1961.

"We did everything we could but win," lamented Topping again. "We had a beautiful goal line stand in the first half, and a perfect drive to start the second half. You couldn't ask for anything more from your offense."

The young Lancers splattered on offense the first half, gaining just one net yard as the Bears posted an overwhelming 39 to 12 edge in plays run. But the Lancer defense came through when needed, and the Bears emerged with only a 3-0 advantage at halftime.

Lakeshore then got its offense together at the start of the second half, taking the opening kick off and marching 68 yards to pay dirt in 15 plays. Fullback Mark Krager had the big gainer, a 13-yard scamper around end, and sophomore tailback Brad Gardner got the touchdown which gave the Lancers a 6-3 lead on a three-yard run up the middle.

"They came back to their power," commented St. Joe coach Ike Muhlenkamp on the Lakeshore turnaround in the second half, which saw the tailbacks carrying the ball more while Krager delivered some key blocks. "And our linebacker was getting in too tight, and their guard was getting a piece of him."

St. Joe finished with a strong 295 yards to 105 yards edge on total offense. Senior fullback Scott Wolff was the leading Bear rusher with 87 yards in 23 carries. Senior tailback Jay Claravino added 62 yards in 18 tries. The Bear passing game was good for an even 100 yards, with Ziebart, a returning regular, hitting 9 of 16 attempts. Dongvillo, a junior up from the jayvees, caught five passes over for 67 yards, including a couple of over-the-head nabs while leaping above defenders.

"They made some nice catches," continued Topping. "That's what kept them in the ball game when the chips were down."

Much of the Bear running game was to the outside, including an overtime scamper of seven yards around left end by Claravino which set up Ziebart's TD. "The tackle hole was stuffed," declared Muhlenkamp.

Krager was the leading rusher for the inexperienced Lakeshore squad which showed future promise, with 43 yards in 13 tries. "They're just sophomore kids, it took them a half to get going," added Topping.

Topping picked linebacker Craig Shafer and tackle Pat Newell as the Lakeshore defensive standouts. They must have done a good job, because it was the first time in 19 games that St. Joe didn't score at least two touchdowns.

Muhlenkamp also had some words of praise for his defense. "They were tough except for that one drive," he explained, while noting that linebacker Dick Goodman and tackle Jeff Schinal had a lot of tackles.

He also complimented the offensive line for an excellent job of pass protection, but he kept going back to Bock, his junior kicker. "You got to praise that kid," he concluded.

McAfee, Eau Claire Topple Bloomingdale

EAU CLAIRE — Although one game doesn't make a season, Don McAfee gave notice that Eau Claire may not miss Taylor Lanier as much as some coaches had thought.

The senior tailback gained 240 yards in 24 attempts and scored all three touchdowns as the Beavers crushed Bloomingdale 22-8 here Friday in high school football.

McAfee started the scoring in the first quarter on a 40-yard run. Jeff Horner connected with Nathan Lanier for the extra

Indiana Power Routs Bobcats

NILES — Chuck Sanders rushed for 217 yards and two touchdowns Friday night to lead Indiana power Mishawaka Marion to an easy 32-0 win over Brandywine here.

The victory was the third included touchdown runs of 66 and nine yards.

The winners rolled up 495 yards in total offense to just 192 for Brandywine.

Tom George connected on 10 of 29 passes for 222 yards and two touchdowns. Both scoring passes went to Paul Kazmierczak, one for 40 yards and the other for 56. George scored the other touchdown himself, scampering in from 15 yards out. All told, Kazmierczak caught four passes for 135 yards.

Darryl Walls paced the Bobcats attack with 70 yards in 19 carries.

Chile To Send Cup Team

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The Chilean Tennis Federation will send a three-man team to Bastad, Sweden for the upcoming Davis Cup competition, but death threats have changed the personnel completely from the three original players.

Despite threats by Chilean exiles and Swedish anti-junta groups, Hernan Basagottia, president of the Chilean Tennis Federation, dispelled rumors of a possible default by announcing Chile would send a team to next week's semifinals with Sweden.

However, Chile's top players — some Filoli, Patricio Cornejo and Roberto Prats — refused to Eau Claire gave up 98 yards through the air but intercepted four passes, two by Don Bailey. The defense also only allowed 30 yards on the ground. "I was just pleased with our aggressiveness. I don't think we allowed a first down in the second half. There always seemed to be two or three men in on every tackle," exclaimed Bergan.

Eau Claire ended up with 343 yard total offense with 300 of those coming on the ground.

Nine S. Haven Turnovers Costly Plainwell Shuts Out Rams

SOUTH HAVEN — "You can't beat anybody with that many turnovers...certainly not Plainwell."

That's how Ram coach Gary Steudle aptly summed up the crucial season-opening 14-0 Wolverine loss to Plainwell here Friday night...a game which saw South Haven make nine costly turnovers.

South Haven and Plainwell shared the Wolverine championship a year ago, and Plainwell was given a slight edge over the Rams for the title this year in a pre-season poll of league coaches.

"That had to be one of the most disappointing performances we've ever had," added Steudle after seeing his Rams shut out for the first time in 24 games over three seasons. (South Haven was the highest scoring team in southwestern Michigan last season and entered the current campaign with a 13-game streak where they had scored three or more touchdowns.

"Plainwell didn't do anything to get excited about, they just took advantage of our mistakes, and we made enough of them."

"South Haven outgained Plainwell 186 yards to 154 yards, but the Trojans got the points on the scoreboard. Rod Lyons scored in the first quarter on a two-yard run and Ken Crouch got the other tally in the second period with an 80-yard return of a pass interception.

"We made so many mistakes off our kicking game that kept us in the hole, after a while we had to throw the ball to get in the game, and then we had the interceptions," continued Steudle. "It was just one error after another." (South Haven finished with five pass interceptions and four lost fumbles.)

South Haven's only real scoring threat came late in the first half, but that was wiped out by Crouch's TD pass interception.

Other than the turnovers, Steudle found satisfaction in the performance of his Rams.

"We thought our defense did a real good job," he explained. Mark Salasky did an especially fine job from his linebacking slot.

Andy Newell led South Haven rushers with 84 yards in nine carries. He hadn't practiced all week while being sidelined by illness.

South Haven also lost wingback Nate Goodwin early in Friday's game with an injury. It was not immediately known how long he will be out of action.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California football Coach John McKay has this knack, you see, of finding tailbacks in the strangest places.

Take, for example, his latest "find." Ricky Bell came to USC to play football — he didn't much care which position — and wound up as a freshman linebacker. Then he became a sophomore fullback. Today he's a tailback.

And how.

The 6-foot-2, 215-pounder, who runs the 40-yard dash in 4.6 seconds, raced inside, outside and through Duke Friday night for 256 yards, a school record, and scored four touchdowns on runs of 8, 6, 1 and 1 yards as the No. 5-ranked Trojans pasted the Blue Devils 35-7.

John McKay 'Find' Keys Trojan Win

It was a virtuoso performance, one performed with little grace — ust bull-like strength and speed rarely seen in a former linebacker.

Bell's performance might have been guessed at from his 1974 statistics. As a part-time fullback he carried the ball 45 times for 289 yards, an average of 6.6 yards per carry.

Another Win For Hudson

BLISSFIELD, Mich. (AP) — Halfback Mark Luma scored three touchdowns Friday night to lead Hudson to a 32-0 high school football victory over Blissfield, extending the Tigers' winning streak to 63 games.

Blissfield was the last team to beat Hudson. That was in the opening game of the 1966 season.

The national prep record for consecutive triumphs is believed to be 71 by Jefferson City High School in Missouri. Hudson could tie that with a perfect 9-0 record and pass it if it reaches the state playoffs and wins.

Bushee Sparks Fennville

GOBLES — If Gobles never sees Rick Bushee again, it'll be too soon.

The Tigers certainly saw enough of him Friday night. Bushee rushed for 213 yards in 25 carries and scored four touchdowns to lead Fennville to a 30-6 win over Gobles in the season football opener for both teams.

Bushee rushed for three of the TDs in the first period on runs of 10, 4, and 47 yards. After that for all extensive purposes, the game had been decided.

Clock Runs Out On Panthers, North Muskegon Wins

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

WATERVLIET — The clock ticked out on Watervliet here Friday night.

The Panthers tried to play "Beat the Clock" but came up just shy of speaking in under the buzzer in dropping a pulsating 13-6 decision to powerful North Muskegon here Friday night.

With time running out, Watervliet drove 75 yards from its own 10 to the visitor 15. But then quarterback Rick Sabadin was sacked on an option play on the 30 and the Panthers never could regroup for another play as the clock wound down.

The clock proved the Panthers' worst enemy as Watervliet dominated second-half play while being aided by some key North Muskegon penalties.

"I really believe we could have scored," I honestly do," expressed Watervliet coach Jerry Barchett after the non-league opener. "The kids were really determined to score. Let me say this, we had a bunch of really determined and dedicated kids out there tonight, that was real evident. I'm really proud of them."

The Panthers gave a fine account of themselves against the Northern invaders, who have now won 30 straight and have ended second in the AP Class D poll the last two years. (They're now in Class C) Watervliet held a 17-4 margin in first downs and 267-218 net yards edge while holding Muskegon to only 34 yards net and two first downs the last two quarters.

Watervliet's Frank Gargano also turned in a sterling performance. The bull-like senior, the area's scoring leader last season, plowed for 211 yards in 26 carries (141 the first half) and tallied the lone Panther touchdown on a 10-yard rip.

"I've never seen Frank run any better," praised Barchett, starting his 14th year at Watervliet. "I was really pleased with our running backs. And Rick did a good job for his first time at quarterback."

Watervliet, which took the opening kickoff and drove to the Muskegon 10 before running out of downs, found out quickly the dash threat of halfback Ron Steele. The junior, who runs the 100 in 10.1 and was the city and county sprint leader last spring, sailed 74 yards at 8:33 of the opening quarter to put North Muskegon on top. Scott Wickland kicked the PAT.

The Panthers came right back on an 85-yard drive in 10 plays with Gargano going the final 10 at 3:15 of the first period. A roughing the passer penalty against Muskegon nullified an interception by the visitors and kept the march alive. Gargano's run for the PAT was short.

Wickland capped a 41-yard North Muskegon march with an eight-yard scamper around right end at 8:11 of the second period.

Watervliet, which tightened up its defense due to some Barchett changes, held the Muskegon offense along with Steele to a mere crawl the second half. But poor field position (starting at their own 17, 7, 37 and 10) also kept the Panthers in check.

"We made some key mistakes there which stopped our drives in the second half but overall I think we played a pretty good opening game," commented new Muskegon coach Dave Warmack. "Both teams had some key penalties."

"I think Watervliet will do very well this year. They have a fine club. I don't see many teams beating them. They have the potential to be a good team."

Steele led the winners with 114 yards in nine carries with 74 coming on the long-distance ringer. Wickland added 74 yards in 15 totes.

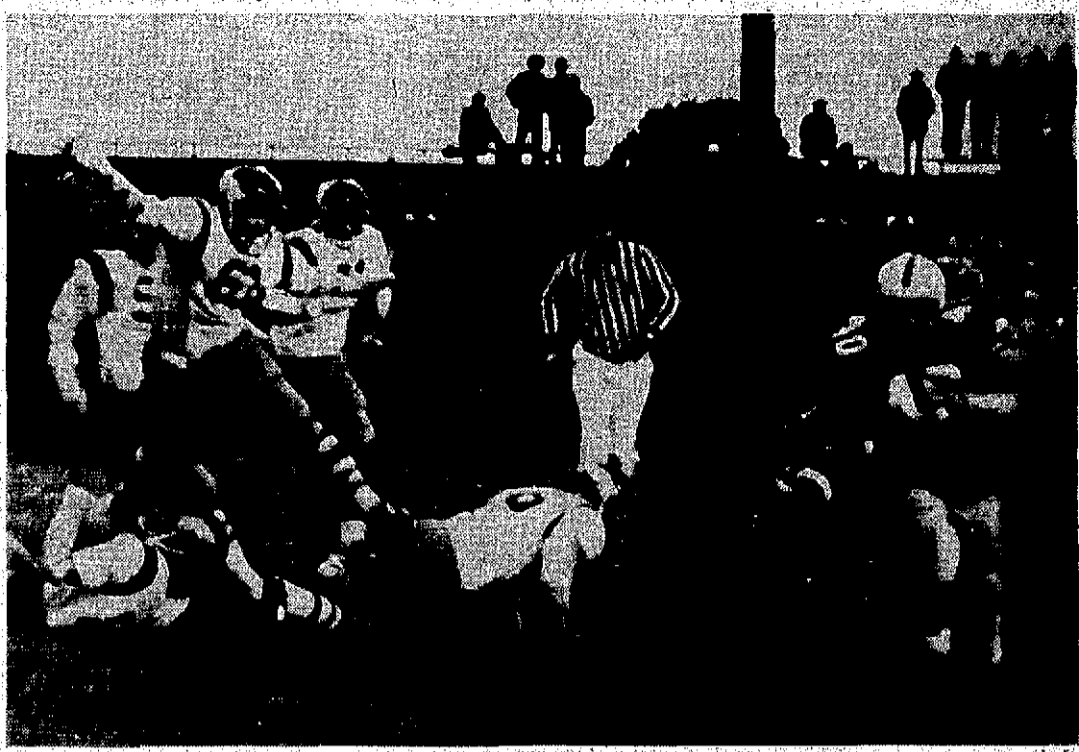

"Hey, we're not ashamed to have lost to this club," they have a nice football team," observed Barchett of North Muskegon, which hasn't lost a game since 1972. "We played a fine game. We made some mistakes but the things that hurt us were due to lack of experience, primarily on defense."

"We'll be back...we'll come off this one."

The loss ended the Panthers' streak of four straight opening-season victories. Barchett is now 8-5 in openers.

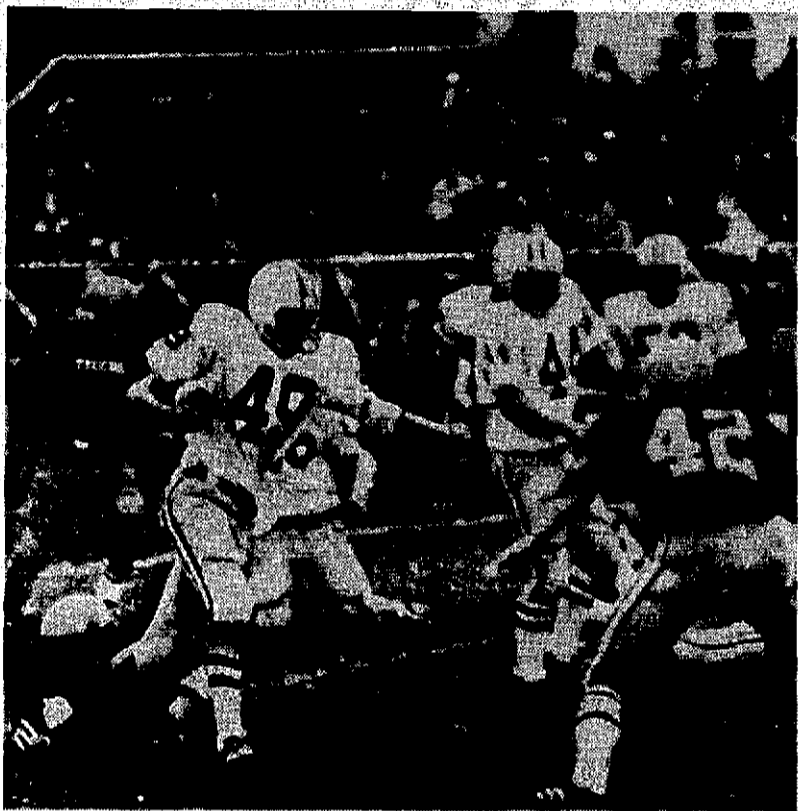

Watervliet, ranked sixth in the final Class C poll last season, resumes action next Friday by hosting Bridgman in the Red Arrow opener.

Hartford Edges Past Lawrence

Indians Picking Right Up From Last Season

LAWRENCE — Hartford has picked up right where it left off last season.

The Indians won their last three games a year ago to post their best record in four years at 3-4. And on Friday here, Hartford pushed the winning streak to four by edging Lawrence 14-8 in a defensive struggle.

Dennis Hoffman's one-yard run in the final minute decided the game for Hartford. The run was set up by a 25-yard pass from Hoffman to Bruce Flowers. After three runs by Randy Scaletta moved the ball to the one, Hoffman took it over on the quarterback sneak.

Hartford rolled up 363 yards in total offense, 338 of which came on the ground. Ken Lowe was the big thorn in Lawrence's side as he rushed for 108 yards in 22 carries. Flowers added 82 yards in 15 tries and Hoffman had 45 in 14.

Lawrence gained 183 yards on the ground and added 88 through the air for a 232 total. Jerry Aranda's 47 yards in 10 carries paced the losers. Ron Schmalfeldt added 43 yards in 12 carries and Dave Congdon had 41 yards in nine tries.

Hartford got on the scoreboard first after recovering a fumble on the Lawrence 34 early in the first quarter. From there it took the Indians just

Schaller Scores 3 TDs In 26-0 Bee Win

Bridgman's Mike Schaller knows what to do when he gets the ball, just ask Michigan Lutheran.

From his end spot, Schaller caught one scoring pass and ran for two more touchdowns as the Bees blanked the Titans 26-0.

Schaller was the only Bee hero as John Jones and Dale Zilke made key plays on defense to help shutout the Titans.

"We played even ball in the first quarter and a half," said Lutheran head coach Bob Gruetzmacher. "We just couldn't contain Schaller."

An inspired Lutheran club held Bridgman in check for the first quarter. "The defense held us up," said Bridgman coach Jerry Planulis. "Our offense just couldn't get anything going until the second quarter."

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Aurora, Ill., held to three hits by Detroit's Ed Johnson, bunched three runs in the fourth inning Friday night to beat Detroit 3-2 and win its way into tonight's American Softball Association National Fast Pitch Tournament championship.

Winning pitcher Dick Brubaker, who allowed Detroit four hits, brought home the winning run with a sacrifice.

In Friday night's opener, Detroit eliminated Worcester, Mass. 7-1.

Aurora will meet unbeaten Reading, Pa. in tonight's final and must win twice to earn the championship in the two-defeat

Decatur opened up a comfortable 20-0 halftime advantage with three second-period touchdowns. Mroczek scored on a 32-

Trades Bring Bears New Faces

CHICAGO (AP) — It's a combination of new and old for the Chicago Bears of 1975.

They have a new coaching staff headed by Jack Pardee and they have so many new players that stock in program sales will hit a new peak.

But an old problem still exists at the vital position of quarterback.

Pardee and General Manager Jim Finks have traded wildly in an effort to change the image and losing ways of the Bears of recent years. With two more cuts still to go to get down to the maximum 43 players, 22 of last year's 48 players were gone.

Pardee started the exhibition TC St. Francis Rolls To Victory

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — Don Cloos and Paul Mulcahy scored two touchdowns each Friday night to lead Traverse City St. Francis to a 52-13 Class C high school football rout of St. Ignace.

Last year St. Francis was the state champion in Class D season by splitting the quarterback duties between Bobby Douglass, the perennial "Quarterback Of The Future," and Gary Huff as the Bears captured two of their first three games.

Then Pardee announced Douglass would be the No. 1 quarterback. Bobby, who always has run better than he has passed, responded by throwing key interceptions in 13-0 and 21-10 losses to Denver and Miami, respectively.

In hopes of bolstering the passing game, the Bears decided to shore up their receiving corps. Pardee acquired tight end Greg Latta, who played for him in the World Football League last season. Then they traded for wide receivers Ron Shanklin from Pittsburgh and Bob Grim from the New York Giants.

Pardee also has been busy changing things around in the offensive line, which was a sore spot under the previous regime of Abe Gibron. Pardee has brought in newcomers Noah Jackson, Don Pettifer, John Dillon and Jeff Sevy to go along with Lionel Antoine, Bob Newton and Bob Asher.

They are expected to do the job in front of Douglass and a rejuvenated running attack, which includes rookies Walter Payton, their No. 1 draft choice; surprising Roland Harper and trade acquired Dick Edwards, who is expected to do the heavy blocking and running.

The running game really perked up against Miami when the Bears unveiled Payton, who had been shelved with an elbow injury. Payton's debut netted 94 yards in 22 carries and Harper gained 89 more in 12 attempts as the Bears rolled up 218 yards rushing.

Pardee did not inherit as many problems on defense as he did on offense. Actually, the Bears had a respectable defense last year, which ranked ninth in the National Football League, a rather high position considering the team finished last in the Central Division of the National Conference.

Nevertheless, newcomers have managed to make gains on the defensive team. Doug Plank, a rookie out of Ohio State has nailed down a safety spot, Nemiah Wilson, acquired from Oakland, is the right cornerback, and Mike Hartenstein, the No. 2 draft choice out of Penn State, appears a cinch to win a position in the front line.

Hartenstein is being worked at left end with Rich Harris shifted to tackle to go along with Wally Chambers and Mel Tom.

The Bears appear strong at linebacking. Wayne Bryant is at the middle spot flanked by veteran Doug Buffone and Jimmy Gunn. They are backed by Don Rives and Bob Pifferini.

Bob Parsons, who doubles at tight end, will do the punting and Bob Thomas has won the kicking job with the release of Mirro Roder. Virgil Livers, a rookie out of Western Kentucky, is the return man.

The Bears are hoping that all of the changes will lift them out of last place. They possibly can pass up Detroit and Green Bay but hardly will afford a challenge to division champion Minnesota.

However, if they cannot get a respectable and balanced offense together, the Bears might have to spend still another year in the cellar.

Their last championship team was in 1963 under owner George Halas. Since then they have gradually slipped and hit the bottom in 1969 when they had a 1-13 record, matching that of the Pittsburgh Steelers who came back and won the Super Bowl last season.

Fighting O's Not Quitting

Baltimore Bumps Tigers In 11 Innings

From Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles won't go down without ruffling a few feathers.

All but counted out when they dropped two games to the first-place Boston Red Sox in Baltimore last week and fell eight games off the pace in the American League East, feisty Manager Earl Weaver has his Orioles on the wing again.

The Orioles have taken to the road and won seven of nine to come right back into the thick of things.

"We've proven we're not quitting," declared Weaver after his club beat the Detroit Tigers 4-1 in 11 innings Friday night to pull within 4½ games of the Red Sox.

"We'll fight," vowed Weaver. "We'll argue with umpires. It's going right down to the wire. We're not quitting no matter what happens."

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago beat Texas 5-2, Kansas City swept two from California 10-2 and 7-2 and Oakland won the opener of its doubleheader with Minnesota 11-4 before losing 7-4. Cleveland at New York and Milwaukee at Boston were rained out.

When it comes to arguing with umpires, Weaver talks from experience. The Baltimore skipper was not around to see the conclusion of his team's latest victory, having been ejected by home plate umpire Joe Brinkman for arguing a strike call in the 10th inning.

Ellie Hendricks' three-run homer capped a four-run second inning that staked Mike Torrez to an early lead, but the Tigers tied the score on two-run homers by Tom Veryzer in the fifth inning and Ben Oglivie in the eighth.

Then a trio of pinch-hitters won it in the 11th. Al Bumbry drew a leadoff walk, moved to third on Tony Muser's hit-and-run single and scored on ex-Tiger Jim Northrup's double. Ken Singleton added a sacrifice fly for the final run.

Torrez, 18-8, got the victory, allowing eight hits before giving way to Dyer Miller, who got the final three outs. Joe Coleman, 9-17, took the loss, although he retired 23 of 26 batters in one stretch, including 18 in a row.

The A's took advantage of five Minnesota errors in the opener to stretch their winning streak to seven games. But the Twins took the nightcap by scoring six runs in the sixth inning. Dave McKay and Jerry Terrell driving home two runs apiece.

Rod Carew, the Twins' all-star second baseman, played the entire first game and part of the second game at first base. It was his first appearance there since 1970, and he made one error in 15 chances. Afterwards he said simply, "I felt uncomfortable."

Consecutive singles by Jim Wohlford, Cookie Rojas, George Brett, John Mayberry and Al Cowens began the first inning of the first game and set the tone of the evening for the Royals, who now trail first-place Oakland by seven games in the AL West. John Mayberry's two-run double keyed a five-run third inning in the second game.

Interceptions Help Cass

Defeat Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Cassopolis took advantage of two interceptions in the third quarter, turning both into scores, as the Rangers stopped Berrien Springs 19-0 on the home field Friday night.

After leading 7-0 at the half, Tim Hartsell capped off a short drive with his second touchdown of the night, a six yard run. Later in the same quarter, John Wallace went over tackle for two yards and a score after a pass had been pilfered.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hartsell got the Rangers on the board first with a one-yard plunge into the end zone. Berrien Springs came right back as Barry Adams capped off a long drive with a

"We just wore out in the third quarter," said Shamrock head coach Al Bush. "We're green and made mistakes. I think we only ran only 20 offensive plays all game."

Hartsell was the game's top rusher with 61 yards and Bush felt he did a good job. "I don't want to take anything away from Cassopolis because the Rangers are a fine team, but when we did get the ball, the field position was really lousy."

A.J. Foyt Strategy Works;

Wins Pole For MIS Race

BROOKLYN, Mich. (AP) — A.J. Foyt used a little trick he learned in stock car racing to win the pole position for today's Indianapolis-type auto race at Michigan International Speedway.

The 150-mile race was scheduled for a 1:30 p.m. EDT start, to be immediately followed by the 100-mile first leg in the International Race of Champions series. The $100,000 twin-bill was dubbed the Michigan Grand Prix.

"Just before we went out to qualify, we put on a set of new tires," Foyt explained. "New tires grip the track better, and if you can get a real good warm-up lap to heat the tires up, it should work fine."

"We do that all the time in stock cars."

The strategy worked, and Foyt zoomed around the two-mile oval at 201.117 miles an hour, the fastest lap ever recorded under restrictions placed on Indy car speeds in 1975. Foyt's V8-powered Coyote was only slightly different in Friday's qualifying than it was in July, when he won the pole for the Indy car race here at a speed of "only" 193.807 m.p.h.

"It helped that we had almost ideal conditions when I ran," Foyt said. "There was almost no wind, and it was very cool."

Moments after his run was completed, rain interrupted qualifying. And after the track was dried, the over-all speeds were not as fast as they had been.

driver who's been able to even keep the irrepresible Foyt in sight all season, locked in second starting position with a speed almost four miles an hour slower, at 197.206 m.p.h.

Johnny Rutherford nailed down the third spot, in the inside of the second row, with a speed of 196.829. And Bobby Unser, in the car from which Mike Mosley recently retired, was fourth at 193.444.

"Bobby's got to be disappointed at his speed, especially after what I ran," Foyt said impishly. "I think I'll go rub it in."

Good naturedly, Foyt pedaled off on his bicycle to find Unser, who also suffered another setback. Mario Andretti beat him out for the pole position in the IROC event.

Andretti, driving a different Camaro from the one Unser used, cranked a lap at 161.134 m.p.h., about two-tenths of a second faster than Unser's 150.250. The 12 drivers entered in the event will use identically prepared Camaros.

Andretti, without a word, winked to Unser after his pace setting run.

Unser shot back: "See, I told you Mario's car was faster." He followed that with a snide that Andretti returned.

Lawton dominated much of the first half but failed to dent the goal line while Schoolcraft spent most of the second half in Lawton territory.

Brian Coady rushed for 30 yards in 10 totes for Lawton while John Lepley caught two passes for 41 yards and Kurt Smith two passes for 34 yards.

Lawton, which held the edge in the statistics, also got some fine defensive work from Brian Cronenwett, who had an interception, Damon DeVries, Dale Knittel, Sean Coady and Mike Woodruff.

Win Over Denby

DETROIT (AP) — Center Line St. Clement, a Class C team which had a 4-4 record last season, had a late schedule change and made the best of it, blanking Class A Detroit Denby 17-0 Friday night in the high school football season opener for both teams.

St. Clement originally was scheduled to play Dearborn Sacred Heart, but the school closed and Denby, which had an open date, agreed to be the new opponent.

John Kucharek kicked a 22-yard field goal for St. Clement just before halftime, then added a six-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. The field goal was set up by Dan Krause' 54-yard punt return.

Quarterback Gary Zelmanski threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to halfback Chris Wouters in the third period.

'Advice' Is Costly At State Capitol

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — There is little free official advice around the state capitol. In fact it costs a bundle. Advisory boards and commissions cost Michigan over $536,000 a year and the price is expected to go up.

A support system provided the 44 boards and commissions with their 300 members pushes costs well beyond $1 million if state employee payrolls are counted.

The state boards and commissions were created to study problems and offer solutions, set policy, and in many cases test, issue licenses and regulate. Some commissions meet monthly, others less frequently.

Mostly they are made up of people with knowledge in the board's or commission's particular field. But the legislature has been ordering that "public members" or persons without a business or professional interest in the field, be appointed to represent outsiders.

A six-member legislative committee is considering raising the $20-to-$75 per diem rate board and commission members get to the $50-to-$100 range, depending on the responsibility involved.

The largest appropriation for a board or commission for the new fiscal year is $135,000 to the Michigan Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation, sponsored by the legislature.

The aim of the commission, which meets about five times a year, is to exchange information about common problems with other midwestern states and foster friendly contacts with other states and the federal government, says A.E. Reyhons, Legislative Service Bureau director.

The commission comprises five gubernatorial appointees and 10 legislators. Most of the commission's funding goes for dues in various national organizations.

The dues total $123,040 this year, with $58,910 going to the Council of State Governments; $42,180 to the National Conference of State Legislators; $21,850 to the National Governors' Conference; $2,000 to the National Association of State Information Systems; and $100 for the Midwestern Governors Conference.

The balance pays expenses, such as the $15-per-day to members while they're on the road and 15 cents a mile when they use their own cars.

State funding for various other advisory boards and commissions ranges from $410 annually to the Department of Licensing and Regulation's Forestry Board to $60,000 for the Department of Management and Budget's Environmental Review Board.

The seven-member Natural Resources Commission, which develops policy for the huge Department of Natural Resources, got $50,000 this fiscal year, up $10,000 over last year's appropriation.

Natural Resources Commission members normally meet two consecutive days a month and draw $75 a day plus travel expenses.

The five-member Agriculture Commission, which sets state Department of Agriculture policy, has a budget of $17,000. Its members get $75 a day for meeting.

The agriculture department also has a five-member marketing and bargaining board with a $7,000 budget and a $35 per diem; the Soil Conservation committee, at $4,500 and $35; and the Upper Peninsula State Fair Board at $7,500 and $30.

NEWS OF MARKETS

New York Concerns Market

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's financial problems and rising interest rates held center stage on Wall Street again this past week, driving stock prices lower in quiet trading.

With the market losing ground in four of the five trading sessions, the Dow Jones industrial average ended the week 28.66 points lower at 809.29. The blue-chip indicator's losses were largely a reflection of Wall Street's growing concern over recent rises in key interest rates.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index declined 2.32 to 83.30 and the New York Stock Exchange's composite stock index fell 1.30 to 44.26.

There were 1,328 losers and only 417 gainers of the 1,998 issues traded on the Big Board.

Volume totaled 85.40 million shares, indicating the caution and lethargy that has marked trading for the past six weeks.

In the week's first two trading days, New York City's fiscal problems sounded the dominant theme. In recent weeks, the city's threatened insolvency has grown in size in investors' minds as a possible depressant for both the stock and bond markets.

The reasoning has been that if New York City's bonds and notes became worthless through a default, not only other cities but bank liquidity would be threatened, and so would industries like housing and banking that either grant or need credit.

On Monday, the Dow advanced 4.14 points as signs pointed to at least a temporary resolution of New York City's dilemma. But on Tuesday, when the New York State Legislature actually came through with such a temporary solution, the market paradoxically plunged 12.34 points, the worst drop of the week.

To analysts, it was a simple case of good news falling to light Wall Street's fire.

Thereafter, interest rate worries took over, sending the Dow average lower for the remainder of the week.

On Wednesday, a prominent investment counseling firm predicted further near-term rises in short-term interest rates. That same day, the Treasury said it would have to borrow $3 billion more in the money market than earlier expected, a move likely to push rates even higher.

On Friday, as widely expected, New York's First National City Bank led a number of major banks in raising the prime rate a quarter point to 8 per cent, the first time the key borrowing rate has been increased since Aug. 8.

The market put together a weak rally try Friday on the belief that the worst on the interest-rate front was over for the time being, but the buying disintegrated by the close.

Sony Corp., the week's most active Big Board issue, lost 1 1/2 to 9 1/4 on turnover of 2,260,200 shares.

In all, 30 issues reached new highs for the year, 57 sank to new lows. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index fell 1.97 to 83.48.

The Associated Press 60-stock average lost 0.5 to 259.7.

Two Building Permits In New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO — Two building permits were issued in New Buffalo in August covering $1,700 in estimated construction costs.

Permits were issued to Vail Krenke, 309 Mayhew street for an addition to a garage for $750 and to Mrs. Elaine Hoder, 310 North Barrion street to re-roof a house for $950.

200 Years Ago Today

On Sept. 13, 1775, the North Carolina Provincial Congress announced it would purchase all gunpowder and saltpeter manufactured throughout the province to use by the Continental Army.

STOCKS DECLINE: Dow Jones industrial average closed at 809.29 Friday, down 28.66 from the week before. The Associated Press average closed at 253.5, down 8.2 over the same period. Interest rate fears and New York City's problems hang over the market, pushing the indicators down. (AP Wirephoto)

Postal Rate Changes Effective On Sunday

Slight decreases in the cost of mailing letters and post cards and a general increase in parcel post rates will go into effect this Sunday.

According to Benton Harbor postmaster Robert S. Brown and St. Joseph postmaster Patrick McMullen, the U.S. Postal Service has ordered the following rate changes:

First class mail — All mail 13 ounces or less will be 10 cents for the first ounce and nine cents for each additional ounce. Present rates are a straight 10 cents per ounce.

Postal cards — The rate will drop from eight cents to seven cents per card.

Parcel post — Packages, 15 ounces and under will be 10 cents for the first two ounces and eight cents for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof. Presently the second two ounces are only six cents.

Brown also said there was a general increase on parcel post 16 ounces and over, which is computed by a chart based on weight and distance shipped.

All rate changes will become effective at 12:01 a.m. Sunday.

The Postal Service previously announced that the cost of first class mail would be raised to 13 cents when this new rate scale went into effect, but last week said the increase would be postponed until after the Christmas rush.

Air mail stamps remain 13 cents.

Net Sales Increased By Hoover

ANN ARBOR — Hoover Ball and Bearing company of Ann Arbor experienced a six per cent increase in net sales for the fiscal year ending July 31, compared to the previous year, according to a company spokesman.

The increase was due to strong gains in non-automotive products including furniture components, blowmolding machine systems, cold finished steel and tote systems products, the spokesman said.

Increased sales for fiscal year 1975 boosted net earnings by nine per cent and per-share earnings by seven.

The Ann Arbor firm is the parent company of Hoove Uguine company of Bridgman.

For the year ending July 31, the spokesman said, net sales amounted to $270,407,000, an increase of $14,200,000 or six per cent over sales of $256,200,000 for the previous year.

Earnings before income taxes came to $23,224,000 or $3,967,000 more than pre-tax earnings of $19,257,000 reported last year.

The company's financial report said net earnings for the year just ended were $11,724,000 or $2.83 per share compared to $10,732,000 or $2.75 per share a year ago.

Michigan Villages, Smaller Cities Eye More Pie

FLUSHING, Mich. (AP)— "We just feel that we have been getting too small a piece of the pie too long," says the founder of a new organization seeking to speak for Michigan's villages and smaller cities.

And there is obvious support for Dr. Russell Phillips' branch.

The newborn Michigan Alliance of Small Communities, organized only Jan. 9, already has enrolled nearly one-fourth of its potential members among the state's communities with less than 50,000 residents.

Phillips, a veterinarian and mayor of the Genesee County town of Flushing, designed the Alliance to cover all but 22 of the state's communities. He said his group could cover 510 communities, and 126 have joined the Alliance already.

Phillips noted his group's potential membership would cover just under three million Michigan residents while the 22 largest cities have about 3.5 million inhabitants.

A few cities are getting automatic funding in every program and the rest of us are left to fight over scraps," Phillips contended in sounding his organization's key theme — more federal and state funds for smaller communities.

He said the Alliance plans frequent meetings with state legislators to discuss needs of smaller communities. The group also intends to issue regular statements of policy.

Currently, the Michigan Municipal League represents most members of the new group. The league has a potent lobby in Lansing, but smaller towns complain most of its influence is exerted on behalf of the big cities.

Whitehall Mayor Richard Cogswell, a member of the Alliance's board, contended the League's recent policy statements "are primarily aimed at the larger cities. We feel the small communities have been left out."

But Cogswell lauded the new organization "is not out to compete with the Municipal League" and Alliance members will retain membership in the older group.

Cogswell described the Alliance as a "supplement" with just one purpose — "serve the special needs and interests of small communities."

So far, the Alliance has concentrated on organizing. It divided the state into 10 chapters, roughly following the boundaries of Congressional districts. The group hasn't drawn any legislative program yet except for general opposition to "the attack on home-rule government."

Drawing a program acceptable to tiny villages and cities alike may be a problem. But Phillips said he is "confident" it can be done.

"Until we really accomplish something, it's going to be rough to attract anyone else," one Alliance member reported.

But Cogswell said, "If we have something constructive to offer, I think other communities will join in due time. I'm encouraged by the response so far."

Alliance officials cite no statistics to back their claims that they are being shortchanged on state and federal grants but point to such programs as federal Community Development funds which go automatically only to cities with more than 50,000 residents.

"We feel if it's good, good enough for cities over 50,000 then it's good enough for us," Cogswell said of that program.

"We've got exactly the same problems that the big cities have," contended Holland councilman John Blomendaal.

"We have to clean our streets, treat the sewage, pay our policemen, pump the water, put out the fires, haul our garbage. There's no difference whatsoever."

"We aren't asking the world," Blomendaal added. "All we want is equity. Equal opportunity."

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite manufacturing activity being off 14.5 per cent and textile output volume down 28 per cent, indicators signal better business ahead for the U.S. textile industry in the third quarter, according to a story in Textile World magazine.

FOR JEB STUART MACGRUDER

What effect did prison life have on your personality? How have you changed?—K.T., Anniston, Ala.

● Personalities don't change—at least not when you've reached the ripe old age of 40. You are what you are by this time in life. What has changed primarily is my perception of the world. The prison experience showed me the kind of life

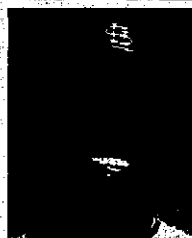

I knew existed—but I only knew it intellectually. Now I know it emotionally. So I have a much more empathetic feeling towards the underprivileged than I had before. You might say prison has been a good experience in the long run. Solzhenitsyn said, and I'm paraphrasing, "When you are young, it seems love can conquer all. As you get older, you realize that life is more than love." I realized finally that life is not simply a love story. It's much more than that.

FOR BOB GIBSON

I heard that you were on the Harlem Globetrotters. Is this true?—Tony Cilia, Owensboro, Ky.

● Yes, I did play for the Harlem Globetrotters. It was during the 1957-58 season, following my basketball career at Creighton University. I gave up basketball for one reason—because I was a better baseball player and saw a brighter future in that game.

FOR VIKKI CARR

Is it easier to become a famous singer today than it was in the days of Judy Garland, Nat King Cole and others?—D.R., Westport, Conn.

● No. It's never been easy to become famous, particularly as a singer. If anything, I think it's tougher now. There's much more new talent around for the public to see—and judge—because of television. If there are twice as many of you, you have to work twice as hard!

FOR HERB ALPERT

I've read you're extremely rich. What effect would losing all your money have on you?—R.A., San Antonio, Texas

● Very little. I'd be exactly the same as I am now. Money gives me freedom to do what I want, but it isn't No. 1 in my life. My father, who manufactured ladies coats and suits, made a moderate living. We didn't wallow in luxury, but we didn't struggle, either. I was perfectly happy with the little I had, and could be again if I had to. I'm not knocking it—but it's not the answer to everything.

FOR BOB BARKER, host of "The Price Is Right"

What's your secret for remembering people's names?—S.P., Casper, Wyo.

● It's all concentration. People on the show are my tools. I MUST know their names. It's my job. But introduce me to people at a cocktail party, and I can't remember who they are two minutes later.

FOR NOEL NEILL, Lois Lane in the old Superman movies
How long ago did George Reeves, the actor who played Superman, die? And how did he die?—Mary Anderson, Upton, Mass.

● He died in 1959. The rumor has been going around for years that he got so wrapped up in the Superman role that one day he thought he could really fly and jumped out of a window. Actually he died of a gunshot wound which was said to be self-inflicted.

FOR MRS. BABE RUTH

Were you for or against Hank Aaron breaking your husband's home run record?—Richard Sanborn, Pt. Pleasant, N.J.

● I was all for it. In fact, I'm all for anything or anyone that can bring excitement and color to the game and ball parks. Hank's marvelous performance made me feel very proud. My only regret was that I wasn't able to see that record-breaking home run in person.

FOR MRS. HELEN TWEEDY, owner of "Secretariat"

I read that horses shorten their lives by so many months with every race they run. Is this true or false?—Mrs. F.C.M., Colorado Springs, Colo.

● False. Horses do not shorten their lives by running races. Kelso is an example of a horse that raced till he was nine years old, then he was used for hunting. But it is true that horses with problems in their legs increase the chances of breakdown in each race. Ruffian had an exceptional temperament, but she resisted help. It was this that caused her ultimate death.

FOR BOBBY KNIGHT, U. of Indiana basketball coach

What punishment would you recommend for colleges that recruit illegally?—J.B., Buffalo, N.Y.

● If school officials are trying to get away with murder, they should get the death penalty when they are caught. I think the coach should be fired and the school lose its schedule for a year. We have either got to set up a stringent set of rules or set up a semi-pro league to subsidize those athletes that are getting cars, clothes and tickets that alumni buy back later for a fraction of the cost.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

How old is Jack LaLanne, and is he really as fit as he professes to be?—W.E.L., Hollywood, Calif.

● Jack is 60 and, from all accounts, seems to be in perfect physical shape. On his last birthday, he accomplished the seemingly impossible feat of swimming from Alcatraz to Fisherman's Wharf with handcuffs on his wrists, shackles on his ankles, towing a 100-lb. boat stuffed with sandbags. The purpose, of course, was publicity; but at the same time he proved that men of his age don't have to be athletic has-beens. Said Jack: "For my 61st birthday I'm planning something—in the New York area—that will make my 60th look as dull as reciting nursery rhymes backwards." He was recently recognized by the American Academy of Achievement for his contribution to inspiring youth and helping America become a nation of physically fit specimens.

Weather and You: Your Illnesses, Your Moods in Rain or Shine

By T. K. Irwin

It's an evening in March. A middle-aged salesman quietly watching TV at home suddenly suffers a mild heart attack. A young housewife, hit by a splitting headache, feels unaccountably depressed. A nine-year-old boy, usually genial, goes on a rampage, smashing toys in his room. What is happening?

The weather is happening. That day the barometer dropped sharply and a cold front came on abruptly. The result was that people's health, behavior and efficiency were affected in ways that science had never even realized were possible. Now, fresh insights and clues to human response to the elements are forthcoming from the American Institute of Medical Climatology, an informal "invisible college" of doctors, meteorologists and physicists who exchange findings through their scientific grapevine. To learn their latest research revelations, FAMILY WEEKLY called on the Institute's president, Dr. Helmut E. Landsberg at the University of Maryland. Here's how Dr. Landsberg (a meteorologist and former director of climatology with the U.S. Weather Bureau) and other practitioners in this burgeoning branch of medical science size up the often complex impact of weather factors on our well-being:

Your Heart. Most studies stress that heart attacks mount during very cold days, especially when low temperatures are triggered by sudden weather changes. Exposure to high snowfall may cause death, more so for men than for women, based on the theory that men generally spend more time outdoors. People with congestive heart disease can't take heat waves: A nationwide poll of physicians disclosed that most of them believe shortness of breath in cardinals increases during muggy weather because outside heat makes it more difficult to get rid of metabolic heat, thus placing a load on the heart.

Angina pain usually exacerbates during a cold snap, in cold winds and on muggy days.

Migraine headaches. Bright sunshine and reflection from snow bring on or aggravate attacks. In a study by the British Migraine Association, those afflicted also reported suffering episodes before thunderstorms or blizzards.

Arthritis. Experiments with arthritic patients showed that their joints began to ache with the onset of a combination of rising humidity and falling barometric pressure. Many arthritics are so weather-sensitive they start feeling worse even before the barometer falls.

"Humidity triggers a physiologic reaction," Dr. Landsberg explains. "Joints especially are affected. The shoulder and hip joints have cavities with fluid. With a change in the outside atmospheric pressure, the joints act like a barometer, and this causes pain."

Asthma. In a Chicago hospital, asthmatic patients were feeling fine. In mid-afternoon, as rain began to fall, every patient felt the familiar choking

Here are some rules, recommended by medical climatologists, to safeguard you against unfriendly elements.

"Try to adapt to weather changes. Doctors used to advocate taking hot and cold showers. This is still sound advice. People who exercise outdoors and take cold showers in the morning probably survive longer than those who take pills.

"Before leaving home in the morning, check your barometer or weather report. If there's been a sharp drop in the barometer, sensations. At 9 P.M., the rain subsided and they recovered somewhat. Two hours later, an ear-splitting summer storm hit and all the patients went into attacks that continued through the following day. This was the pattern of unstable meteorological conditions: a sudden drop in temperature, then a marked rise in humidity with sharp fluctuations in barometric pressure—first a drop, then a rise, and finally another drop.

Emphysema, Bronchitis, Respiratory Ailments.

"Breatheability of air affects these people," says Dr. Landsberg. "With an impaired respiratory system, the more contaminants you take in, the more trouble you have breathing. When the air is contaminated, people with chronic bronchitis or emphysema suffer. Stagnant air, with little wind and clear skies—especially in the evening—results in an accumulation of pollution, particularly in cities."

Ulcers, Intestinal Disorders.

One study in Philadelphia found that the peaks of hemorrhages from duodenal ulcers occurred during the months of March and April and October through November at times of marked variations in temperature. As for other intestinal troubles, Dr. Landsberg says that constipation is likely to be linked to cold weather. Diarrhea is more common in hot weather when food contamination is likely to occur since heat stimulates bacterial growth.

The Common Cold. As we all know, most colds and cases of pneumonia happen in winter when we're physically more vulnerable. But British researchers recently concluded that temperature fluctuations rather than temperature level are more significant.

"Continuation of cold weather," they reported, "can result in fewer colds, demonstrating that the thermoregulation mechanism (located in the hypothalamus) can adjust to any given temperature if maintained for long enough periods."

Other climatologists believe storminess is a culprit. It creates constant shifts in temperature, barometric pressure and humidity. This erratic weather causes chilling, which seems to predispose us to a cold. Even though bad weather can't pro-prepare for an off day. Don't overexert yourself. Drive cautiously. Don't let a foul mood control important decisions.

"If a sudden weather shift is predicted and you suffer from asthma, emphysema or heart disease, stay home if you can.

"On hot days, wear loose-fitting, light-colored clothes of porous material. Overweight people have a rough time withstanding blistering heat and become candidates for heat stroke. Drink plenty of water.

"In cold weather, thin people are more prone to physical and mental fatigue and should wear clothes that keep the body warm.

"Make Your Own Weather Calendar. "Learn your reactions to weather conditions," Dr. Landsberg suggests. "Keep a record, day by day, for a year or so. You'll get to know what kind of days make you feel poorly or stimulate you to do creative work, and what days you should stick to routine tasks. This way, you could wind up thanking the weather, not blaming it."

H. Amato/Roberts

duce a germ it does strain the body's heat-regulating mechanism so that bacteria existing in the upper respiratory tract can get out of control.

Mental Illness. Psychiatrists have noted that mental stability can be related to weather disturbances. For some people, hot, moist weather can even lead to violence and suicide.

Other Ailments. People with hypertension should know that their blood pressure usually rises in cold weather and goes down on warm days. Some climatologists say diabetics are affected by hot weather when the balance of blood sugar is upset as the body tries to compensate for the change in water balance. Leukemia is now being studied for climatic links.

Pregnancy and Childbirth.
Many obstetricians contend that a change in air masses, either from warm to cold or from cold to warm, can help bring on eclampsia—a convul-sive complication in the latter part of pregnancy or during labor. During a sudden outbreak of cold weather, many pregnant women have gone into labor. And on one occasion in Washington, D.C., so many women went into labor that they filled entire hospitals to the point of placing cots in corridors. Dr. Landsberg suspects a sudden cold wave affects circulation and releases the spasms that induce labor.

Your Moods and Behavior.
Psychologically, a murky overcast day can be depressing.
Many researchers have found ties between atmospheric pressure and restlessness, accidents and aggressive acts.
One theory holds that falling pressure causes swollen tissues, a diminished blood flow and increased pressure on the brain.
These in turn lead to fatigue or other unpleasantness in susceptible individuals. Dr. Landsberg believes monotonous weather is more apt to affect your spirits.

For work, the ideal temperature is an average 64 degrees.
Seasonally you do your best mental tasks in late winter, early spring and fall. A prolonged blue sky reduces your productivity.

Hazards in Your Environment. Apparently we respond to every whim of the air mass.
The immediate effect shows up in our pulse rate, temperature, blood pressure, urine—in all the metabolic and chemical processes of your body.
Some people can adjust well, others can't. Often, people on the verge of being sick surrender to the illness when a sharp weather shift depletes their strength. For the seriously ill, a violent weather break can push them over the brink to death.

Medical climatologists are people, hot, moist weather can lead to violence and suicide.

transport certain types of disease. For instance, strong winds can carry histoplasmosis and other fungi from chicken coops.

Among important findings which still haven't penetrated to the public, Dr. Landsberg cites the influence of weather on medicines: Diuretics, for example, are widely prescribed in specific dosages for hypertension, heart and kidney diseases, to secrete and excrete more water. "Weather influences water metabolism," says Dr. Landsberg. "In hot weather people sweat more, and in cold weather they urinate more. If a patient on fixed doses of diuretics excretes too much, presumably he or she could become dehydrated."

Know Your Weather. Dr.
Landsberg points out, "Most of us brought up in a hothouse environment are not elastic enough to adapt to weather quirks. A lot of mysteries are still unexplained. But once we understand what is now known about the weather in relation to how we feel physically and mentally, we'll understand ourselves much better."

This week, Food Editor Marilyn Hansen makes a tasty casserole. "I've been noticing how reasonable canned mackerel has been," says Marilyn. "This week, I've put together a casserole using mackerel, instant mashed potatoes and all sorts of good things. You'll love it!"

A Tasty, Low-Cost Fish Casserole

Flavorful canned mackerel combined with potato, peppers, carrots, tomato and onions makes a savory casserole.

MACKEREL VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

- ¼ lb. carrots, sliced or diagonal
- salt
- boiling water
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 cup sliced onions
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- 3 cups seasoned mashed potato*
- 1 can (1 lb. 12 ozs.) tomatoes, drained; reserve liquid
- 1 can (15 ozs.) mackerel, drained
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Grease a shallow 2-qt. casserole. Cook carrots in salted boiling water to cover 15 minutes until tender. Drain.
2. In medium skillet in hot vegetable oil, sauté onion and green pepper about 5 minutes until tender.
3. Spoon half of mashed potato in bottom of prepared casserole. Top with ½ of carrots, ½ of onion-pepper mixture, ½ of tomatoes and all of mackerel.

4. Top with remaining mashed potato, carrots, onion-pepper mixture and tomatoes. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.
5. Bake for about 30-35 minutes until heated throughout. In medium saucepan, heat reserved tomato liquid to boiling. Boil about 5 minutes, uncovered, to reduce liquid. Serve as a sauce with casserole.

Makes 4-6 servings

*If using instant mashed potato, prepare 6 (½ cup) servings according to package directions.

TART 'N' TANGY VEGETABLE SALAD

- 1 pkg. (3 ozs.) lime gelatin
- 1½ cups boiling water
- 1 cup grated cucumber or raw zucchini
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Few drops Tabasco
- Crisp salad greens

1. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add remaining ingredients.
2. Pour into a 3-cup or 1-qt. ring mold. Chill until firm. Stir once or twice while chilling to set evenly.
3. Unmold on crisp salad greens. Makes 4-5 servings

WHAT'S SMART: Canned mackerel is really a good food buy—cheaper than either tuna or salmon. Drained, and blended with mayonnaise, seasonings and pickle relish, it makes a hearty sandwich filling too.

Problem-Solving: Do You Really Know This Elusive Art?

True or False: It's useless to burden sympathetic friends with problems only you can solve. (See number 5)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. You can solve a problem better if you have a couple of drinks to loosen you up a bit and stimulate the flow of mental juices.
2. To tackle problems successfully, you've got to go into action. You simply can't solve them by lying down on the job.
3. If personal problems are getting you down, you've got two strikes against you if you try to resolve them while you're feeling depressed.
4. A young child's ability to cope with problems and do well in his studies will be greatly improved if you can teach him to study quietly. This will enable him to concentrate better.
5. It's useless to burden sympathetic friends with problems only you can solve.
6. People solve problems better under pressure or when there's a threat of punishment.

ANSWERS

1. False. University studies show that though a person may feel sharper after he's had a couple of drinks, he really isn't. Even small amounts of liquor were found to dull perception and impair the ability to think and reason.
2. False. Psychological studies conducted at two leading universities have demonstrated that bodily position has a direct bearing on how our mental faculties function, and that subjects made the best scores on tests of creativeness and imaginative ability while lying down. This position was also found the most conducive to deliberation and reflective thinking, and open-mindedness.

3. True. Studies show that a down-beat mood impairs your mental abilities. This is particularly true where emotional considerations color the picture. Since solution of personal problems often requires the use of full thinking capacity, it's important that we don't court failure by making an attempt when we don't feel at our best.

4. False. A study of 300 young school children showed that they made significantly better scores on various problem solving tasks when they were instructed to think aloud. It's concluded that "verbalization of children (putting their thoughts into words) is an integral part of their mental processes, and that children perform less well when silence is enforced." It was also found, however, that after the age of nine, the need to verbalize begins to decrease.

5. False. In studies of problem-solving under various types of conditions, it was found that subjects did much better when they knew that others were engaged in trying to solve a given problem than when they were required to work on it alone.

6. False. Studies at the University of Lublin (Poland) of the effect of psychological stress on the ability to solve problems or complete difficult mental tasks showed that performance on all tests was poorer when a threatening situation was induced by the investigators. The projection of anxiety and a sense of threat caused marked reduction in the subjects' ability to think.

Rediscovering natural food fiber, America's forgotten nutritional element.

Recent observations suggest food fiber may be more important than previously thought.

NEW STUDIES ON FOOD FIBER.

There has been a great deal of interest recently on the subject of dietary fiber. Articles and columns in major newspapers and national magazines have reported new scientific observations on food fiber and its possible effect on health.

Basically, they're saying what we've been saying for years: natural food fiber is important to help your digestive system regulate itself. But in addition, they suggest that fiber may play an even greater role in our diet than previously believed.

CHANGES IN DIETARY HABITS.

These observations suggest that, with the change in eating habits in recent years, many Americans may not be getting the food fiber they need. This, in spite of the fact that one of the best sources of food fiber is also the most common.

TWO BREAKFAST SUGGESTIONS.

Which brings us to Kellogg's All-Bran and Kellogg's Bran Buds. Not only are both these cereals rich in natural food fiber, they're also an important source of vitamins and iron. Crisp and crunchy even in milk, they offer two delicious ways to get the food fiber you need in your diet.

FOOD FIBER AND HEALTH.

If you're concerned about fiber and its relation to health, think about including

SOURCE OF FIBER: THE WHEAT BRAN.

Bran, the outermost layer of the wheat kernel, is one of the richest sources of natural fiber. Bran contains a major share of many of wheat's nutrients, including vitamins and minerals. And it's low in fat.

these two bran cereals as part of your diet. Kellogg's All Bran, in shredded form, and Kellogg's Bran-Buds, in bud form, with a slightly different taste. Two excellent sources of natural food fiber.

French Star Catherine Deneuve: A Closeup of "The Iceberg Blonde"

Catherine Deneuve: cool, calm and collected—a complicated woman who likes luxurious things.

"It's not in my nature to stand up and talk at meetings. I am not a Jane Fonda or a Vanessa Redgrave. But I do understand the women who participate."

By Michael Leech

She's French. She's a film star. She's an iceberg blonde with a volcano underneath. The kind of pure, porcelain beauty most men would find a challenge.

On screen she's cool, calm and collected. Off screen... "I'm very happy, really. I live the way I've always wanted to live. I decided it. My work is very important for me, but I would never make concessions. I would never sacrifice my private life for my career."

That's possibly because her private life is still very bound up with Marcello Mastroianni—and there can't be many women around who wouldn't make some sacrifices for his Italian charm. His Italian charm, however, didn't prevent Catherine from giving him his marching orders a few months ago. A fact which drove him to public despair... until she relented and took him back.

But doesn't the French press criticize Catherine's life-style a good bit? "Oh yes. But today, I don't care, quite frankly. When I was 20, I got very upset. I did some interviews with journalists who reported inaccurately what I'd been saying—and that gave me a bad surprise. So I said to myself, no more interviews. So the papers gave me what they call a Lemon Prize for not being cooperative. Well, I didn't mind about that but I was upset about the bad interviews. They hurt me very much. I was young then. After a while, I realized that they had nothing to do with my work. As long as I am working with people who know me and like me, that is the important thing. I cannot please everybody and I cannot

No need to give up the foods you love... and, best of all, once you have slimmed down, you can stay slim, firm and shapely. WE GUARANTEE IT!

Our "5-Minute Figure-Shaping Plan" is for busy, intelligent people, who understand the hazards of diet fads and "effortless exercises." With our plan, all you do is lie on your back and do one "5" Minute Exercise twice a day, whenever it's convenient, even while watching TV. Instantly, you start speeding up your metabolism, burning off fat, releasing excess water, using up extra calories, stimulating your well-being and helping to curb your appetite without appetite suppressants.

We also suggest a temporary 20% food reduction, without giving up any of the foods you love — eat ice cream, cake, pasta — whatever. (It's all in the guide!)

Betty Kessler
Case No. 8-908

Results vary. Here are some of our more outstanding results achieved.

The slimming action of our "5" Minute Exercise concentrates on your waistline, hips, legs and flabby arms — where fat accumulates quickest, to give you that aging look.

While crash or fat diets cause some temporary weight loss, they also burn off much muscle tissue — which can also cause your skin to wrinkle, neckline tissue to deteriorate and leave you feeling fatigued. Our plan stimulates active tissue growth, through the use of our "5" Minute Exercise, which firms and shapes your figure. When combined with your temporary 20% food reduction, greater fat losses are quickly achieved, making you look years lovelier as you slim. Because our plan is easy and fun to follow — you love staying with it, and without any further food reduction, you remain slim and shapely, not regaining those inches and pounds you lost, saying "goodbye" at last to the "gain and weight loss roller-coaster" cycle.

* WHY FAD DIETS ARE DANGEROUS — HERE ARE THE FACTS!

If you hope to slim down, firm-up and beautify your figure through dieting alone... FORGET IT!

Doctors and nutritional experts warn that fat diets — even fasting — will do absolutely nothing to firm and shape you up. In fact, they caution: Unless you diet under proper medical supervision, you can actually destroy your figure, beauty and sex appeal! You may even seriously damage your health.

Even under medical supervision, dieting alone will do nothing to firm or shape you up. Our simple "5" Minute Exercise, used twice daily, is the safe, natural way to firm and beautify your figure, while you eat sensibly.

Pat. 3,858,874, © Joe Weider 1973

* THE SAD TRUTH ABOUT DIET FADS:

Famine Diets can be a serious health hazard. Low carbohydrate, skim milk and banana diets — among others — have been severely criticized by many doctors, because they often fail to supply your body with nutrients it needs. This deficiency may cause calcium and iron depletion, dehydration, weakness, nausea or even kidney problems. And diets do nothing to firm and shape your figure!

The Yo-Yo Syndrome comes from crash dieting. You lose a few pounds for a short time — giving up the foods you love, counting calories and staying hungry. But, it's too great a price to pay for a few pounds you can't see. So, because there are no firming and figure-shaping results, you go back to eating, and quickly gain back the little weight you lost. This "up and down" cycle is repeated with some people every time a new diet comes out!

It has a negative effect on your metabolism — aging your body and skin — and can be more dangerous to your health than staying fat! And, of course, no fat diet can firm up your figure!

Pills and drugs intended to suppress appetite have been reported to have undesirable mental and physical effects. In addition, some may become habit-forming. And, they do nothing to bring back a trimmer figure!

Diuretics drain water and potassium from your body — which can cause dehydration, nausea, weakness and drowsiness. Dangerous for diabetics. They do nothing to firm and shape your body!

HCG Shots, which supposedly enable a person to subsist on 500 calories per day, allow too narrow a variety of foods to provide adequate nutrients. The low carbohydrate levels of this diet can promote Ketosis and other problems. Does nothing to firm and shape your figure!

Sauna Wraps, inflated pants, rubber suits and so-called "effortless exercisers" have been proven to have no slimming value. You may sweat off a few pounds of water — but, within a few hours you'll drink it all back. Does nothing to shape you up! Isn't it foolish to risk the hazards of fat diets and effortless exercise "gimmicks" when our "5" Minute Body Shaper Plan works so safely and effectively to reduce unwanted inches and pounds the natural way... firming and trimming your figure and improving your health and energy without depriving you of a single food you love?

HERE ARE THE SIX REASONS

...why our plan SLIMS, FIRMS AND SHAPES your figure so fast you look years slimmer in 14 days, without resorting to dangerous diets, drugs or pills.

1) It concentrates its slimming and firming action on your fatty areas — waist, hips, upper thighs and arms — that give you an "aging look". Because it works most of your muscles gracefully at one time — not body part by body part — the plan stimulates faster slimming action to help you start fashioning a more youthful-looking figure in 14 days.

2) Simple to see... No dieting. Attach to any door knob, stretch out comfortably on the floor. Do one "5" Minute continuous, rhythmic, enjoyable exercise twice daily — whenever you have the time (even while watching TV).

3) Designed to slim fatty problem areas. Choose from four different "5" Minute Exercises — each created to help slim down the problem fatty deposit areas of your body in 14 days.

4) No rigid dieting. We suggest you temporarily eat 20% less until you reach your normal weight — without giving up any of the foods you love. Eat ice cream, cake, pasta... whatever! (It's all in the Guide!)

5) Safer... and saves time. No more exhausting workouts at the gym. This simple "5" Minute Plan you do at home, leaves you refreshed.

6) Weighs about 10 ounces. Fits any wallet-size case. Stores anywhere. Travels with you — so you never have to miss a slimming session.

IT'S FUN WITH RESULTS... "5" MINUTES AND OUT.

care about everybody either."

So what sort of things does she care about?

"The move for abortion in France. I think it's very important. And Women's Lib. It's not in my nature to stand up and talk at meetings. I am not a Jane Fonda or a Vanessa Redgrave. But I do, of course, understand the women who participate. Most of them aren't even doing it for themselves. They're doing it for the women who don't even care yet. It is not true to say there are no problems for women. There is a big problem and there is going to be one for many years."

While Catherine Deneuve doesn't see herself as a spokesman for rebel causes, she nevertheless occasionally lashes out on behalf of Women's Lib.

"I would never let anyone say anything wrong about it. It's terribly irritating for me to hear women saying 'Women's Lib is not for me because I don't feel concerned.' I don't feel I have to be free. It's like saying 'Politics doesn't concern me because I'm not personally involved in it.' Being free doesn't happen to bother me—but there are many women who need to be free. That's why I think Women's Lib is necessary. Even though I am not involved in it, I do feel for the situation of other women."

Her principal films have been "Umbrellas of Cherbourg," "Belle de Jour" and "Mayerling." One of her best known is "Repulsion," directed by Roman Polanski. She's worked with many top directors and nowadays does about two feature films a year. So far, she's notched more than 30. She nevertheless is only known to some people for her appearance in Chanel Number 5 advertisements.

"I think it is better to be known for that than not to be known at all. In life you are not always famous for what you would like to be famous for. I would have preferred to be famous, in America, say, for my films—but I am a French actress and the problem is the language. So I am known as a foreign actress. Now people associate my face with the one for the commercials, so I am getting better known for the films! There is, of course, always the danger that one becomes that sort of pretty actress who is more famous for her face than anything else."

Although she lived in London for a short time, when she was married to David Bailey, she really considered Paris her home. Her spacious flat is on one of the upper floors of a large townhouse on a fashionable avenue. The dining room, with its modern furnishings, has bird prints all over the walls and large, pale pebbles ranged around the roots of enormous, healthy-looking houseplants. Rust-colored carpets stretch endlessly in every direction and there is a sense of tasteful luxury. Her bed, swathed in thick fox fur, is a modern four-poster. All this must make her the envy of many a woman.

"I suppose I am lucky," she agrees. "I am in good condition physically, and for me there is always the possibility to enjoy life. I have a small house in the country, and when we go there with the children, life is very good. As long as there are trees and children and sun and sea, I think you can find a way to appreciate living. I like the simple things in life—although in some ways I am a complicated woman."

Is it the complicated woman who likes the luxurious things of her life—the expensive trappings, the travel, the clothes?

"It is better to be known for TV commercials than not to be known at all . . ."

"I don't know if it is complicated to like clothes. I love clothes. I don't think a woman dresses for a man—she dresses for other women. I'm very much impressed by elegance. And that doesn't mean one has to spend a lot of money on clothes. I know many women with very little money but with great elegance in the way they wear things. I do care about the way I look and don't believe it when an actress says she doesn't care about the way she looks. I can tell you if she says that, she's lying."

What about the future?

"I'm not a gloomy person. Nor do I worry a lot. Even when there are wars all around. I cannot be like those women who worry 24 hours a day. It is not in me to be like that. I can feel very concerned and touched, but it doesn't destroy my life."

She's been intimately associated with an Englishman, an Italian, and a Frenchman. Does she find the men of any nation more attractive than others?

"I don't think like that," she says, shrugging. "For me it is the personality of the man, his warmth and his concern that are important. I make decisions for myself and I don't mind if people criticize me for the way I live, or for the men I love. It's my life and I must always be true to myself."

ACTUAL PHOTOGRAPH OF A FIVE YEAR SCARLET MAPLE (ACER RUBRUM)

- This gorgeous tree is known as the scarlet maple, red maple, or the EVER CHANGING MAPLE.
- Beautiful Red Scarlet leaves in the fall of the year, and beautiful deep dark green leaves in the spring of the year.
- Grows approximately up to 25-30 feet over a five year period, which makes it one of the fastest growing shade trees in America today.
- Many landscape architects and nursery men refer to this native tree as the "2 in 1" tree, because of its dual qualities of beauty and speed and you won't have to wait long for shade because we ship these beautiful trees at 5 to 7 feet.
- Adaptability — "The scarlet maple has one of the widest ranges of our native trees; growing from eastern central Canada to Florida, and because of its ease of transplanting it adapts to any type of soil." (From All About Trees by E. Johnson.) The one tree experts agree will grow anywhere in the U.S.A.

Sports Mini-Profile

GENE TENACE: He's Still Taking His Father's Advice

Oakland's Gene Tenace is proof that a star does not have to be the greatest player in the world—as long as he's great when it counts. Gene was an unknown substitute in 1972. Suddenly, at the end of the season, he made headlines as the spearhead of Oakland's dramatic World Series win over powerful Cincinnati. He hit four home runs to tie a Series record, was voted the Series' Most Valuable Player and earned a regular job as the A's first baseman in 1973. Tenace simply has a talent for hitting under pressure. He has hit five grand-slam homers in the past two years, and he produced 11 game-winning hits in 1974 alone. Many of his homers have come off the best pitchers in the league. Tenace is as valuable for what he doesn't hit as for what he does. Last year, he waited out 110 walks, leading the league in that category. When the A's beat the Mets in the 1973 Series, Gene walked 11 times to tie an old Babe Ruth record. In the 1974 American League Playoffs, he worked Baltimore pitcher Mike Cuellar for a bases-loaded pass that forced in what proved to be the decisive run. . . . Another thing Gene is noted for is his versatility. When A's catcher Ray Fosse was injured, Tenace was shifted from first base to catcher, and Joe Rudi was given the first-base slot. Gene credits his ability to make this kind of switch to his father. The elder Tenace, Flore, had played catcher, outfielder and third baseman in the semi-pros and had always urged his son to learn how to play more than one position. Gene is still taking his father's advice. Early this season, Gene fell into a severe batting slump. His dad told him he'd become too selective and was letting good pitches go by him. "I listened to what he said," says Gene, "and my batting average shot up a hundred points!" Gene, his wife and two children live in San Ramon, Calif.

Some Findings About Those "Liberated" Teenagers

Is sexual freedom healthy for teenagers? There are plenty of experts to argue both sides of this question, and the returns aren't entirely in yet. But one interesting study produced some negative results. Some sociologists

Investigating the sexual behavior of 14- and 15-year-olds found that youngsters who were involved in sexual relationships seemed to be in an overall state of distress. The sexually active boys and girls were very likely involved with alcohol and drugs. And the more heavily involved they were in sexual activities, the greater the likelihood that they would also engage in shoplifting, car theft, vandalism, assault and reckless driving. It was found that these youngsters also had negative attitudes toward education, teachers, school and the police. What wasn't clear was how much the situation today is different from the situation 10, 20 or even 30 years ago.

COMING FULL CYCLE

Recycling has done well so far
With paper, can, and even car,
But something still we throw away
And don't re-use, day after day,
Don't reassemble, saying thus
Material as well as muss.
What am I thinking of, you wonder?
I'll tell you what it is, by thunder:

It's crumbs! The crumbs of bread and cake
They ought to gather and rebake.
The crumbs I have myself seen left
Would feed the hungry, food bereft.
It's not too late now to begin,
So save your crumbs and turn them in.

I just saw a classified ad in a New York newspaper that says it all: It read:

J. EDGAR HOOVER
A Survivor's View

A former agent talks about J. Edgar Hoover's FBI: "In the FBI under Mr. Hoover, you had to work on the premise that the Director was infallible. If you did not really believe this—and of course most employees certainly did not—you nevertheless had to pay lip service to it to survive. . . . Mr. Hoover was old-fashioned, and so were his punishments. They were reminiscent of the eighteenth-century English law, which provided public hangings for thieves and pickpockets. It may sound a little crazy, but it was the danger of this kind of disciplinary action that made Bureau service exciting. The game was to break and bend the rules without getting caught. Most of us who survived became, by necessity, expert players." From "No Left Turns: The FBI in Peace and War," by Joseph L. Schott (Praeger, $7.95)

THE SUPER SECRETARY
Visions of 1984?

The office desk of the future may well be this cradle-like device designed by a West German industrial firm. It incorporates in one neat unit a chair, a desk and an electric typewriter which is hooked up to a computer to receive information. The typewriter can also be replaced by a telex machine and microfilm reading equipment. The chair allows the secretary to sit upright or practically recline while working, and the tools available around her enable her to work completely from her desk. This office unit is a great space saver, and is believed to be a major step toward the paperless office, but critics ask whether it is also a major step toward a sterile, over-automated working environment.

What's Anne Mearns' secret fear?

She's made countless appearances on TV, has been seen by millions of viewers, and she's been acting for almost 25 years; but one kind of entertaining still frightens her, Anne said, "I can play Madison Square Garden for thousands, but if I have to give a dinner party for six, I'm scared to death. I fall to pieces and get pains in the back of my neck. Then my head throbs and my knees turn to water. By the time my guests arrive, I'm a basket case." Why?

"Because certain things are expected of me, and I panic. When I act, I read the lines of my part. I can ad lib. But at home, it's different. I have no script and can't prepare my remarks in advance. Also, our home is geared for children (Anne and husband Jerry Stiller have two children, Amy, 14, and Benji, 10), not entertaining. As for cooking, I cook a lot. All in one pot. My kind of cooking, beef stews and chunky soups, belongs on a farm." Anne stars in a new TV series for CBS, "Kate McShane."
